KILL REPEAL OF POOL HALL
LICENSE LAW

Often Fought-over Matter Is Finally Disposed of in
The House

MANY BILLS PASSED

Wolf Bounty Cut, Mothers' Pension Law Changed by Lower House

The state pool hall inspection law will remain on the statute books.

This was decided definitely yesterday afternoon when the house, in its final action on one of the bills affecting this department killed
the senate bill to repeal the act.
It was stated on the floor of the house that the senate was holding house bill No. 206, which amends
the present pool hall inspection law, until the house had acted on the repeal bill. The house has provided that 70 percent of the receipts from licenses on pool halls, soft drink stands, taxicab stands, motion picture theaters, etc. be returned to the cities and villages,
and 30 percent shall be used to maintain the pool hall inspection department under the Attorney-General.

Among the measures acted upon by the house were:

Passed the re-written gross earnings tax bill on Pullman cars, freight carriers and equipment
companies.

Provides that bank stock shall be assessed on a 50 percent basis.

Passed the re-written mine inspection act, reducing the experience required to mine or load coal from year to six months.

Passed the law providing maximum hours of labor law for women, permitting them to work 10 hours in one day in cases of emergency, specified.

Passed a bill providing five-sixths of a jury may return a verdict in a civil case after 12 hours deliberation.

Passed a bill giving the state
right to ask for change of venue in criminal cases.

Passed a revised mother's pension law, requiring approval of county commissioners for allowance; new child labor and other welfare bills already passed by senate.

Kill Regulatory Bills
The house also, on committee report, killed several bills amending regulatory laws and extending scope of hotel, restaurant, oil and other inspection service. The state affairs committee was moved to recommend the bills chiefly, it was stated, because they proposed to give to the state food commissioner, the administrative officer, power to make rules and regulations which would have the force and effect of laws, and it was held unwise to delegate such large legislative power.

The house accepted a majority committee report favoring passage of senate bill No. 261, authorizing the Industrial Commission to appoint a board of managers for the Grand Forks terminal mill and elevator. Because of absence of a call of the house, it was necessary before the Independent command a majority. The leaders opposed the measure vigorously.

Rep. Cole, Sargent county, Independent, voted with the Nonparti-sans to indefinitely postpone the bill. Rep. Rustad, Independent, and Rep. Lakie, Nonpartisan, were absent. The vote was 57 to 54 for accepting the majority report favoring passage.

Change Asked
Rep. Currie sought to restore an original feature of senate bill No.
290, favored by the Northwest Wheat Growers, providing that elevators could not ship out grain held on storage. The senate had excluded all elevators except terminal elevators, so that it would affect only the state elevator at Grand Forks. Rep. Currie declared that while there was opposition to his proposal from farmers' elevators and others, price-fixing had not been obtained and that the car shortage last fall held up the price of wheat. His proposal, he said, would provide for "orderly marketing, and would therefore benefit the farmer. The bill went into general orders.

A fight was staged over the rewritten mother's pension act. An amendment of Rep. Ehr, Ward county, providing the pensions
must have approval of the county commissioners was accepted. Rep.
Jardine, Cass county, sought to amend the bill by requiring three years instead of one year's residence before a pension could be obtained, the purpose, he said, being to protect counties bordering on other states not having mother's pension laws, and preventing people coming from those counties in order to obtain the pension in North Dakota. This failed, and a motion by Rep. Trichell, Grand county, to require two years residence also failed. Rep. Traynor, Ramsey county, then proposed an amendment providing the pension could be granted only to one who had been self-sustaining for a year prior to entering the state. This also was

McCRILL BILL FAILS

AGREE ON REPORT
The tax committee of the house agreed to report in this afternoon for passage the 75 percent basis of valuation of property for taxes, with a divided report on the provision
in the senate bill allowing $2000 exemption from taxation of personal property.

The highways committee was to report in for indefinite postponement the good roads association bill—senate bill 44, 45 and 46. On one of these,
providing for use of the motor vehicle tax, there was general agreement on the part of the good roads forces because of the senate "rider" but they desired to see the bill submitted and the bill providing for reorganization of the highway commission pass.

The senate bill for a constitutional amendment providing a $7,500,000 bond issue to pay depositors of closed banks, failed of passage in the house last night, there being 38 votes for the measure and 37 against,
with 23 members absent. Rep. Vogel, McLean county, supporter of the measure, said that a motion for reconsideration would be made today.
The house at its night session,
passed the administration income tax bill, amended in some respects from the senate bill. Amendments included increase of exemption for dependent children from $200 to $300, and limiting age for student exemption for whom dependency exemption could be claimed from 25 to 21 years. The bill received just one vote more than necessary for passage, there being 53 for it with 34 against.

The house refused to concur in senate amendments to house bill No.
311, the bill regulating public printing rates, and Speaker Johnson named a conference committee headed by Rep. Twichell to meet senate committees. Other members are Mrs.
Minnie Craig and Rep. Starke.

A bill proposed by the Children's Code Commission, regulating employment of children in street trades such as selling newspapers, failed
of passage, 21 for and 62 against.
The argument was advanced that
the house earlier in the day had passed a stringent child labor measure.

When house bill No. 138, introduced to permit Tommy McCall, Minot youth serving a life term in prison for murder, to appeal to the pardon board before he had served half his life expectancy, came back from the senate amended it failed to pass the house, there being 48 for it and 42
against. Rep. Harrington, author of the bill, served notice reconsideration would be asked.

Compensation Report
The house concurred in senate
amendments to house bill No. 212, creating a deficit tax to meet the losses in the Home Building Association.

A divided report will be made to the house by the insurance committee on the senate resolution calling upon the Workmen's Compensation Bureau to cut its rates fifty percent, the majority being for indefi-

being for passage, but amended to give a board created, consisting of

Postmaster-General Work to succeed Albert Fall as secretary of the interior and of Senator Harry S. New of Indiana to become Postmaster-General was announced today at the White House.

The change in the cabinet lineup is to take place March 4 when
Mr. Fall, retiring after two years service and the nominations of Mr.
Works and Senator New were sent to the senate today to permit their confirmation before the present session of congress comes to an end.
Senator New's nomination was confirmed immediately in open session following the precedent of consistency to sitting members.

BERGER CASE

Chicago, Feb. 27.—Victor Berger, socialist of Milwaukee, and four other defendants convicted four years ago on charges of obstructing army recruiting, had no cause to antences given them at that time or further prosecution on charges that had not been heard.

That became evident yesterday when announcement was made that charges that resulted in their conviction and those remaining had been nolle prossed by the government here two weeks.

FOR STATE A. C.

Purposes Are Increased

Revision of two bills appropriating funds for the North Dakota Agricultural College at Fargo, made by the house appropriations committee
and expected to be reported in today, increase the appropriations $36, 000 from the senate totals.

Increases made in senate bill No.
157, for the Agricultural College, proper, follows: Improvements and repairs—mechanical arts building, $5,000; auditorium, $3,000; armory,
$5,000; trunk sewer $5,000.

The total appropriations for the
A. C. experiment station were decreased $5,000, from $293,350 to $288,350. The changes made from the senate figures were: Increases from $10,000 to $15,000 for demonstration farms; $5,000 to $20,000 for cost accounting and marketing work. Decreases: Eliminated $10,000 for dairy bryess; $5,000 for animal nutrition building; $5,000 for hog barn; $5,000 for animal building veterinary department.

The house committee approved unchanged senate appropriations of $14,000 for the pure seed laboratory; $44,000 for the regulatory division; $51,420 for the oil inspection department and $8,000 for the hotel inspection department.

New York, Feb. 27.—Anna Buzzi, known also as Anna Schneider, housekeeper for Frederick Schneider, wealthy contractor, who was found murdered in his automobile yesterday, was arrested today as a material witness. She denied all knowledge of the crime and became hysterical when locked in a cell.

Mrs. Buzzi, who was 30 years old, was divorced from her husband in a suit in which Schneider was made co-respondent. Police said she was known to neighbors as Mrs. Schneider.

their search for a blonde woman who was seen to leave Schneider's automobile shortly before his body was found in the automobile with two bullets in his head.

Schneider had executed some of the biggest jobs of the city, including the Roosevelt apartments said to be the largest in the world. He was separated from his wife.

His last office in the afternoon after lunching with three of the stenographers and taking his pet chow dog, drove to one of his projects to consult with his nephew, William Schneider, and engaged to meet him at the downtown office later in the afternoon.

He drove back to his Broadway office and near there met the blonde woman who was awaiting
him. This woman was believed to have accompanied Schneider in his automobile.

Nicholas Fuelner, a truck farmer, who saw them later, said he saw the automobile coming toward
him. He heard two muffled reports, saw the car lurch forward and then stop. One story is that Fuel-ner saw the woman emerge from the tounge and then vanish in the twilight. Another report was he saw a woman walking away a few moments later.

LAHR MOTORS
DEALERS SEE

Enter Enthusiastic Discussion

AGENTS ENTHUSIASTIC

Carloads Going Into Sections
Been Sold Before

Forty-two Willys-Overland merchants from over western North Dakota and eastern Montana are in Bismarck today, attending a dealer's conference as guests for the Lahr Motor Sales Company. The meeting opened this morning at 10:00 o'clock.
W. O. Kiracote, special representative from the Overland factory at Toledo, and L. Renner of the Commercial Credit Trust Company of
Willys-Overland dealers. W. A. Fredlund, special representative from the United States Light & Heat Corporation of Niagara Falls was also in attendance.

The dealers are an enthusiastic bunch. "We have never had as many orders on file at this time of the year, both retail and wholesale, as we have now," said Mr. Lahr today.

"We have carload shipments going to dealers in towns where there has never been a carload of any kind of automobile shipped before. In a few towns where we have had no repre-
who are competing for the agency."

"There are two reasons for this remarkable interest in and demand for Overland and Willys-Knight cars," said Mr. Lahr. "First, of course, general conditions have improved greatly during the past year,
and then the public now realizes the remarkable value there is in Overland and Willys-Knight cars."

It is simply going to be a matter of obtaining enough cars to take care of our orders. This may sound like sales talk but you just wait and see if I am not right."

After the business conferences of the day the Lahr Motor Sales Company will entertain the Overland merchants at a banquet at the Mc-Kenzie Hotel, and from there they will go to the second show at the Eltinge Theatre.

This meeting was supposed to have been held on the 14th, at which time the dealers were to have been the guests of the Lahr Motor Sales Company to see Fred Stone in "Tip Top."
However, on account of the blizzard the meeting had to be postponed until today.

Though the dealers spent most of their time with the factory representatives discussing the new models, many of them who have garages in their home cities also were keenly interested in exploring the big Lahr Motors building, to observe the modern machinery and system used in handling the big garage business.

Washington, Feb. 26.—An agricultural credit bill which would establish two new banking systems for the aid of the farmer

templates twelve intermediate

juncts of agricultural credit corporations and rediscount corporations.

TO SURRENDER MONEY
London, Feb. 27.—The French have agreed to surrender that part of the German money seized at Cologne last Saturday which was intended for use in paying British troops, it was said here today.

The tension caused by the incident has been relieved although the situation still is delicate.

The Cologne correspondent of the Times reports that the British firmly demanded return of the money intended for the army.

The Arctic ocean is said by scientists to be getting appreciably

The rumors included one that a dollars for the purpose of launching a third party.

It was stated today by some of the Independent Democrats who were instrumental in demanding that Chairman Woodruff call a meeting of the state central committee here Saturday that Mr. Woodruff reported over the telephone that he favored a meeting but that the notice was retracted. It was asserted, however, that enough members of the com-

The open forum dinner tonight at which immigration topics will be discussed for members of the Association of Commerce promises to be a lively one. The whole program will be snappy. It starts at 7:30 p.
m. at the Grand Pacific.

H. B. Byerly of the Northern Pacific and H. S. Funston of the Sea-line, will talk on immigration, and work of the Bismarck immigration association, affiliated with the work of the A. of C. will be discussed.
R. Greene, manager of the Bank of North Dakota, will talk on fair louns. There will be singing as a part of the entertainment.

Mr. H. W. president of the Association of Commerce will preside and Judge Christensen will be meeting chairman.

Mr. Byerly of Mr. Funston will tell of the big "spring drives" being planned to bring immigrants to North Dakota, and how the local business man may cooperate to see

AT ST. PAUL

Little Action Expected at Today's Session on Stabili-

REVISION OF TARIFF

Gov. Preus in Favor of Altering High Schedules in Search of Foreign Outlet

St. Paul, Feb. 27.—Production and production costs, marketing, transportation, cooperation and various other economic problems of the farmer came in for exhaustive discussion and study today when the Northwest Agricultural Price Stabilization Conference opened for a two-day session here.

Delegates from ten wheat growing states, invited to the conference by Governor A. O. Preus, were present when Rev. T. A. Hoel of Minneapolis, delivered his invocation and the conference got under way in an attempt to help farmers solve some of their difficulties.

Col. C. H. March of Litchfield, Minn., chairman of the Farmer-Banker Council of Minnesota,
which instigated today's meeting, delivered the opening address to the delegates who came from Minnesota, Wisconsin, North Dakota,
South Dakota, Illinois, Kansas, Iowa, Nebraska, Michigan and Montana.

The purpose of the conference, according to the call issued by Governor Preus as chairman, is
the restoration of agriculture and industry in the ten states where delegates are taking part in the discussions. Five sessions of the conference are scheduled, three to
be held today and two tomorrow
the final day of the meeting.

Favor Tariff Revision
Little action is expected at today's session, which is considered in the nature of a preliminary meeting although several authorities delivered addresses, including Governor Preus and J. F. Reed, president of the Minnesota Farm Implement Association.

Governor Preus advocated downward revision of the tariff to broaden the foreign outlet for American farm products and the expansion of cooperative marketing as the essential steps toward assisting agriculture.

"The top of the tariff rail should be removed," Governor Preus said
and he urged that the conference
ask President Harding to exercise his prerogatives to obtain a reduction of the tariff which imposes duties on the necessities of life to the farm.

The Governor reviewed the development of cooperative marketing not only in Minnesota but other states and urged the necessity of binding contracts between farmers and their associations as essential to the success of the cooperative movement.

Mr. Reed who exclaimed "what the farmer needs is a refund," declared that expansion of cooperative marketing and readjustment of the present tariff schedules were the logical remedies for the present agricultural depression in the Northwest.

Opposes Artificial Price Fixing
He opposed artificial price adjustments, he said, asserting that such action would lead to an unhealthy situation in the business world and cause reaction detrimental to the producers.

Mr. Reed pleaded for greater unity in the cooperative marketing movement, daring that a high price for farm products is a dividend for the farmer. He said that the farmers' standpoint and I am strongly of the opinion that this solution must come through the efforts of the farmers themselves, not in the control of his products but in the directing of the movement to making and their sale.

"One of the major difficulties in the way of this program, however," Mr. Reed continued, "is the farmer himself and his inherited tendency to yield nothing of what he considers his inherent right nor of anything that will accommodate himself or his business to his neighbors' words."

L. B. Hanna, former governor of North Dakota, told of conditions he found during his recent trip to Europe and brought out that in Europe they have American products for their plight in that they are no longer in the market for personal wine.

He asserted that too much financial credit had been given the farmer, and that no enough had been done to urge the farmer to get up and keep out of debt.

Borrowing of money he said, is only a temporary expedient. He told the farmers to ask for allowances of millions of dollars worth of valuable machinery stand still and protected from the weather.

Friends of Joe Moug assert that the report of Eddie Doherty, sent

Wolf Bounty Cut, Mothers'
Pension Law Changed by Lower House

The state pool hall inspection
law will remain on the statute books.

This was decided definitely yesterday afternoon when the house,
in its final action on one of the
bills affecting this department killed
the senate bill to repeal the act.
It was stated on the floor of the
house that the senate was holding
house bill No. 206, which amends
the present pool hall inspection
law, until the house had acted on the repeal bill. The house bill provides that 70 percent of the receipts from licenses on pool halls, soft drink stands, taxi cab stands,
motion picture theaters, etc. be
and 30 percent shall be used to maintain the pool hall inspection
General.

Among the measures acted upon by the house were:

Passed the re-written gross
earnings tax bill on Pullman cars, freight carriers and equipment
companies.

Provides that bank stock shall
be assessed on a 50 percent basis.

Passed the re-written mine inspection act, reducing the experi-
from year to six months.

Passed the amended maximum hours of labor law for women, permitting them to work 10 hours
in one day in cases of emergency,
specified.

Passed a bill providing five-
sixths of a jury may return a verdict in a civil case after 12 hours of deliberation.

Passed a bill giving the state
right to ask for change of venue
in criminal cases.

Passed a revised mother's pension law, requiring approval of
county commissioners for allowance; new child labor and other welfare bills already passed by senate.

Kill Regulatory Bills

The house also on committee
report, killed several bills amend-
scope of hotel, restaurant, oil and
stated, because they protect the state to the state food commissioner, the administrative officer, power to make rules and regulations which would have the force and
effect of laws, and it was held unwise to delegate such large legislative power.

The house accepted a majority
committee report favoring passage of senate bill No. 261, authorizing the Industrial Commission to appoint a board of managers for
the Grand Forks terminal mill and elevator. Because of absentees, a call for the house was necessary before the Independents could command a majority. The legators opposed the measure solidly.

Rep. Cole, Sargent county, Independent, voted with the Nonpartisan to indefinitely postpone the bill. Rep. Rustad, Independent, and Rep. Lakin, Nonpartisan, were absent. The vote was 57 to 54 for accepting the majority report favoring passage.

Change Asked

Rep. Currie sought to restore an original feature of senate bill No.
260, favored by the Northwest Wheat Growers, providing that elevator could not ship out grain held on storage. The bill had excluded all elevators except terminal elevators, so that it would
Grand Forks. Rep. Currie declared
that while there was opposition to his proposal from farmers' elevators and others, price-fixing had not been obtained and that the car shortage last fall held up the price of wheat. His proposal, he said, would provide for "orderly
marketing, and would therefore
benefit the farmer. The bill went into general orders.

amendment of Rep. Ehr, Ward
county, providing the pensions
must have approval of the county commissioners was accepted. Rep.
Jardine, Cass county, sought to amend the bill by requiring that years instead of one year's residence before a pension could be obtained, the purpose, he said, be-
on other states not having mother's
pension laws, and preventing people coming from these counties in order to obtain the pension in North Dakota. This failed, and a motion by Rep. Twichell to require two years' residence also failed.
Rep. Traynor, Ramsey county, then proposed an amendment providing the pension could be granted only to one who had been self-sustaining for a year prior to en-

property for taxes, with a divided report on the provision
in the senate bill allowing $200
exemption from taxation of
personal property.

The highways committee was to report in for indefinite postponement the good roads association bill—senate bill 44, 45 and 46. On one of these providing for use of the motor vehicle tax, there was general
agreement on the part of the
good roads forces because of
the senate "rider" but they desired to see the bill submitting the highways matters to a vote
and the bill providing for reorganization of the highway
commission pass.

The senate bill for a constitu-
bond issue to pay depositors of closed banks failed of passage in the house last night, there being 53 votes for the measure and 37 against,
with 23 members absent. Rep. Vogel, McLean county, supporter of the
measure, said that a motion for reconsideration would be made today.

The house, at its night session,
passed the administration income tax
bill, amended in some respects from
the senate bill. Amendments included increase of exemption for dependent children from $200 to $300, and limiting age for student at college for whom dependency exemption could be claimed from 25 to 21 years. The bill received just one vote more than necessary for passage, there being 58 for it with 34
against.

The house refused to concur in
senate amendments to house bill No.
311, the bill regulating public printing rates, and Speaker Johnson named
a conference committee headed by Rep. Twichell to meet senate conferrees. Other members are Mrs.
Minnie Craig and Rep. Starke.

A bill proposed by the Children's Code Commission, regulating employment of children in street trades
of passage, 21 for and 62 against.
The argument was advanced that
the house earlier in the day had
passed a stringent child labor measure.

When house bill No. 138, introduced to permit Tommy McCrill, Minot
youth serving a life term in prison
life expectancy, came back from the
against. Rep. Harrington, author of the bill, served notice reconsideration would be asked.

Compensation Report
The house concurred in senate
amendments to house bill No. 212,
creating a deficit tax to meet the losses in the Home Building Association.

A divided report will be made to
the house by the insurance committee on the senate resolution calling
upon the Workmen's Compensation Bureau to cut its rates fifty percent, the majority being for indefinite postponement and the minority being for passage, but amended to give a board created, consisting of

Postmaster Work to Position Held by Fall

Postmaster-General Work to succeed
Albert Fall as secretary of the Interior and of Senator Harry S. New
of Indiana to become Postmaster-General was announced today at the White House.

The change in the cabinet lineup is to take place March 4 when
Mr. Fall, retiring after two years service and the nominations of Mr.
Works and Senator New were sent
to the senate today to permit their
confirmation before the present session of congress comes to an end.

confirmed immediately in open session following the precedent of confirms to sitting members.

Nicholas Fuchner, a truck farmer, who saw them later, said he
saw the automobile coming toward
him. He heard two muffled reports, saw the car lurch forward and then stop. One story is that Fuch-ner saw the woman emerge from the tonneau and then vanish in the
saw a woman walking away a few moments later.

GEN. HINES TO HEAD BUREAU

Washington, Feb. 27.—Brigadier-General Frank E. Hines, retired, was nominated today by President Harding to become director of the Veterans' Bureau, succeeding C. R.
Forbes, who retires tomorrow.

Though the dealers spent most of their time with the factory representatives discussing the new model,
many of them who have garages in
their home cities also were keenly
interested in exploring the big Lahr Motors building, to observe the modern machinery and system used in

ADMINISTRATION TO GIVE UP PLAN
OF SHIP SUBSIDY

Washington, Feb. 27.—The administration will abandon efforts to obtain government aid for the American merchant marine with the failure at this session of the shipping bill, it was indicated at the White House.

It was said no effort would be made at the next session of Congress to have such a bill passed.

Purposes Are Increased

Revision of two bills appropriating funds for the North Dakota Agricultural College at Fargo, made by the house appropriations committee
and expected to be reported in today, increased the appropriations $35, 000 from the senate totals.

Increases made in senate bill No.
157, for the Agricultural College,
proper, follows: Improvements and Repairs—mechanical arts building,
$5,000; auditorium, $3,000; armory,
$5,000; trunk sewer $5,000.

The total appropriations for the
A. C. experiment station were decreased $5,000, from $293,350 to $288,350. The changes made from the senate figures were: Increases from
farms; $5,000 to $20,000 for cost accounting and marketing work. Decreases: Eliminated $10,000 for dairy barn; $6,000 for animal nutrition building; $5,000 for hog barn; $5,000
for animal building veterinary department.

The house committee approved unchanged senate appropriations of $14,000 for the pure and applied laboratory; $44,000 for the regulatory division; $51,420 for the oil inspection
department and $6,000 for the hotel
inspection department.

The will filed today was made in 1909, disposing of an estate of $3,000 but it was announced that a second will disposing of the $33,000 will be filed March 6.

After leaving several hundred dollars to lawyers in St. Paul and Devils Lake who assisted her in her fight for a share of her father's estate, Mrs. Ross' second will leaves the bulk of her estate, mostly North Dakota real estate, to relatives.

HOUSEKEEPER IS HELD

tion He Figured Lived with Him at Time

New York, Feb. 27.—Anna Buzzi,
known also as Anna Schneider,
housekeeper for Frederick Schneider, wealthy contractor, who was found murdered in his automobile
yesterday, was arrested today as a material witness. She denied all knowledge of the crime and became hysterical when locked in a cell.

Mrs. Buzzi, who was 30 years old, was divorced from her husband in a suit in which Schneider was made co-defendant. Police said she was known to neighbors
as Mrs. Schneider.

their search for a blonde woman
who was seen to leave Schneider's
automobile shortly before his body
was found in the automobile with
two bullets in his head.

Schneider had executed some of
the biggest jobs of the city, including the Roosevelt apartments said
to be the largest in the world. He
was separated from his wife.

He left his office in the afternoon after lunching with three of
the stenographers and taking his
pet chow dog, drove to one of his
projects to consult with his nephew, William Schneider, and
engaged to meet him at the downtown office later in the afternoon.

office where there met the blonde woman who was awaiting
him. This woman was believed to have accompanied Schneider in
his automobile.

Nicholas Fuchner, a truck farmer, who saw them later, said he
saw the automobile coming toward
him. He heard two muffled reports, saw the car lurch forward and then stop. One story is that Fuch-

SECOND TRIAL STARTS

Ardmore, Okla., Feb. 27.—Examination of witnesses began in district court here today in the second trial of Jeff Smith, charged with complicity in the murder of Joe Carroll, an alleged bootlegger, who was slain by masked men in December, 1921.

Carroll was shot down on his doorstep in Wilson, near here, when he resisted masked men. Ten others, all prominent men of Flasher county, are to be held on a similar charge.

Wheeling, W. Va., Feb. 27.—Harry E. Price, assistant-cashier of the

Been Sold Before

Forty-two Willys-Overland merchants from over western North Dakota and eastern Montana are in Bismarck today, attending a dealers'
conference, as guests of the Lahr Motor Sales Company. The meeting opened this morning at 10:00 o'clock.
W. O. Kiracofe, special representative from the Overland factory at Toledo, and L. Renter of the Commercial Credit Trust Company of
Willys-Overland dealers. W. A. Fred-
lund, special representative from the United States Light & Heat Corporation of Niagara Falls was also
in attendance.

The dealers are an enthusiastic
bunch. "We have never had as many
orders on file at this time of the
year, both retail and wholesale, as
we have now," said Mr. Lahr today.
"We have carload shipments going
to dealers in towns where there has
automobile shipped before. In a few towns where we have had no repre-
who are competing for the agency."

"There are two reasons for the
for Overland and Willys-Knight
cars," said Mr. Lahr. "First, of course, general conditions have improved greatly during the past year,
and then the public now realizes what a remarkable value there is in Overland and Willys-Knight cars.
It is simply going to be a question of obtaining enough cars to take care of our orders. This may sound like sales talk but you just wait and

After the business conferences of
the day the Lahr Motor Sales Company will entertain the Overland
merchants at a banquet at the Mc-Kenzie Hotel, and from there they
Eltinge Theatre.

This meeting was supposed to have been held on the 14th, at which time
the dealers were to have been the guests of the Lahr Motor Sales Company to see Fred Stone in "Tip Top."
However, on account of the blizzard
the meeting had to be postponed until today.

Though the dealers spent most of their time with the factory representatives discussing the new model,
many of them who have garages in
their home cities also were keenly
interested in exploring the big Lahr
machinery and system used in

FARMERS PLANNED

Washington, Feb. 26.—An agricultural credit bill which would establish two new banking systems for the aid of the farmer was reported today by the house banking committee. It templates twelve intermediate credit banks as independent adjuncts of agricultural credit corporations and rediscount corporations.

London, Feb. 27.—The French have
agreed to surrender that part of the German monies seized at Cologne last Saturday which was intended
for use in paying British troops, it was said here today.

The tension caused by the incident has been relieved although the situation still is delicate.

The Cologne correspondent of The Times reports that the British firmly demanded return of the money
intended for the army.

The Arctic ocean is said by scientists to be getting appreciably warmer.

MONTANA COUPLE ON HONEYMOON TO EAST ON "BLIND BAGGAGE"

Mrs. Clara Doran began her honeymoon from Billings, Montana, to Chicago, Rochester, N. Y. and other eastern points on the "blind baggage" of a Northern Pacific freight train. The honeymoon was interrupted in Bismarck by police, but she and her husband continued it today.

"I never had so much fun in my life, and I've learned so many things," the demure honeymooner told the police.

Mrs. Doran, who was Clara Hat-tiger and was employed at Billings, was married to Doran just a week ago—on February 20, by Father John Pelly, they said.

Doran's home is in Rochester, N.
Y., where he is a carpenter. He met his wife during the war when a troop train he was on came through Billings. He had returned to Billings to see her two or three times, and on his last trip they decided to

PARTY ENTERS

Form New Independent Voters Association as Result of Recent Conference

Rumors of a third political unit to enter the field was today's aftermath of the conferences and discussions which resulted in the formation of a new Independent Voters association. The break among some of the leaders of the Democratic organization in the state and Republican state central committee that is controlled by Nonpartisans.

The rumors included one that a prominent man in the state had agreed to put up several thousand dollars, some rumors placing it at $50,000, for the purpose of launching a third party.

It was stated today by some of the Independent Democrats who were instrumental in demanding that Chairman Woodside call a meeting of the state central committee here Saturday that Mr. Woodside reported over the telephone that he favored a meeting but that the notice was rather short. It was asserted, however,
that enough members of the committee had signed a call for the meeting to insure that it would be held.

IMMIGRATION MEN COMING

Lively Meeting Anticipated
at A. of C. Open Forum

The open forum dinner tonight at
which immigration topics will be discussed by members of the Association of Commerce promises to be a lively one. The whole program will be snappy. It starts at 7:30 p.
m. at the Grand Pacific.

H. B. Byerly of the Northern Pacific and H. S. Funston of the Soo line will talk on immigration, and
work of the Bismarck immigration
association, affiliated with the work of the A. of C. will be discussed. C.
R. Greene, manager of the Bank of North Dakota, will talk on farm loans. There will be singing as a part of the entertainment.

W. H. Webb, president of the Association of Commerce, will preside and Judge Christianson will be meeting chairman.

Mr. Byerly of the Northern Pacific will tell of the "spring drivers" being planned to bring immigrants to North Dakota, and how the local business man may cooperate to see that this territory gets its share.

TRAIN LEAVES RAILS

Boston, Feb. 27.—Two mail clerks, the baggage master were injured when a Boston and Maine train left the rails at Orange, according to word received at railroad officials' headquarters here.

The "going away gown" of the bride was a traveling suit of khaki trousers, leggings, wool shirt, cap and heavy man's overcoat. She said she didn't have any trouble keeping warm, snuggled up to her husband on the narrow platform of the "blind baggage" with the roar of the locomotive and whistling of icy winds as music. They boarded a train west of Glendive, transferred once and came in Mandan yesterday. They came to Bismarck on a bus, visited the state capital and then prepared to leave on No. 4 last night when police were called.

The couple had $30 between them for their honeymoon, so that the police could not hold them for vagrancy if they desired, it was said.
They planned to ride a passenger coach out of Bismarck, but not very far.

FARM PRICES
AT ST. PAUL

Little Action Expected at Today's Session on Stabili-

REVISION OF TARIFF

Gov. Preus in Favor of Alter-
Search of Foreign Outlet

St. Paul, Feb. 27.—Production
and production costs, marketing, transportation, cooperation and
various other economic problems
of the farmer came in for exhaustive discussion and study today
Price Stabilization Conference opened for a two-day session here.

Delegates from ten wheat growing states met at the conference.
Gov. Preus, present from St. Paul, were present when Rev. T. A. Holt of Minneapolis, delivered his invocation and the conference got
under way in an attempt to help farmers solve some of their difficulties.

Col. C. H. March of Litchfield,
Minn., chairman of the Farmers'
Banker Council of Minnesota,
which instigated today's meeting,
delivered the opening address to
the delegates who came from Minnesota, Wisconsin, North Dakota,
South Dakota, Illinois, Kansas,
Montana.

The purpose of the conference,
according to the call issued by Governor Preus as chairman, is
the restoration of agriculture and industry in the ten states whose delegates are taking part in the deliberations. Five sessions of the conference are scheduled, three to
be held today and two tomorrow,
the final day of the meeting.

Favors Tariff Revision

Little action is expected at today's session, which is considered
in the nature of a preliminary
meeting although several authori-
Governor Preus and J. F. Reel,
President of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation.

Governor Preus advocated downward revision of the tariff to broaden the foreign outlook for American farm products and the expansion of cooperative marketing for farm products as essential to the success of the cooperative movement.

"The top of the tariff rail should
be removed," Governor Preus said,
and he urged that the conference
ask President Harding to exercise
his prerogatives to obtain a reduction of the tariff which imposed duties on the necessities of life on the farm.

The Governor reviewed the development of cooperative marketing not only in Minnesota but in other states and urged the necessity of binding contracts between
farmers and their associations as essential to the success of the cooperative movement.

Mr. Reel declared that "what the farmer needs redress" declared that expansion of cooperative marketing and readjustment of the present tariff schedules were the best remedies for the present agricultural depression in the Northwest.

Opposes Artificial Price Fixing

He opposed artificial price adjustments, he said, asserting that
such action would lead to an un-
healthy situation in the business world and cause reaction detrimental to the producers.

Mr. Reel pleaded for greater unity in the cooperative marketing movement, during that a higher price for farm products is objec-tively the best solution from the farmers standpoint and I am strongly of the opinion that this solution must come through the efforts of the farmers themselves, not in the control of his products but in the control of the movement to marketing and their sale.

MURDER CASE TRIAL OPENS IN COURT HERE

Kusimir Schneider Placed on Trial Charged with Slaying His Wife

Trial of Kusimir Schneider, charged with the murder of his wife by poisoning her, opened here in district court this morning.

Examination of jurors was slow, and it appeared that the entire day would be required to obtain the jury.

State Attorney E. S. Allen is prosecuting the case, assisted by John F. Sullivan of Mandan, retained by relatives of Mrs. Schneider.

Schneider's wife died at her home here on the south side several months ago. No physician was in attendance. The coroner ordered the stomach sent to the state university laboratory at Grand Forks for examination, and it was reported that enough arsenic was found in her stomach to have caused death. Thereupon the arrest was made on order of State Attorney McCurdy.

Schneider resisted the charge on preliminary examination, which was held before Justice Casselman, P. D. Norton and C. F. Kelsch of Mandan defending him. Schneider maintained his wife had been ill and that her death was from natural cause.

Story of North Dakota Boy Whipped to Death

released from jail, and moved on. They knew nothing of convict labor. And nothing more was heard from him until late last year a letter came from Glen Thompson of Jetmore, Kansas, to the postmaster at Mandan asking if Max Tabert had any relatives in that vicinity.

Thompson had been through the "convict labor" experience too. His letters when a correspondence was opened told the most harrowing tale of brutal inhumanity conceivable. Tabert, when his two days of grace after imposition of sentence had passed, had been assigned to work on a convict labor gang for the Putnam Lumber company, a big operator in the turpentine and yellow pine districts of northern Florida. The company is a Wisconsin corporation.

Thompson slept in the bunk next to him and declared Martin was ill. He had boils on his feet and complained of his shoes being too small. Asking for leather shoes for protection to cut those he had drew for him but blows and the ire of Capt. Higginbotham, a state guard, the "whipping boss," and though the boy developed abscesses on his groins which were lanced, and a persistent fever, he was forced on at his work.

The Thompson affidavit continues the tale of brutality which continued until one day when Tabert was "turned in for whipping by Capt. Willis, head of the lumbering operations. On a Friday evening the lad was stripped thrown to the ground, and Higginbotham lashed him with a thick rawhide strap 35 or 50 times. When the boy rolled and writhed under the blows the slave driver placed his foot on his neck to pin him down while the whipping continued. When the boy was released and started to pick up a bottle of medicine which had dropped from his pocket he was struck again and again felled by the blows. Saturday he was too ill to move and was helped to and from work suffering with a raging fever. Sunday he was permitted to remain in his bunk and given no care. Wednesday he died. His body was removed from the fifth of his bed wrapped in cast off clothes of a "nigger" and four colored men told off to take the body out and bury it.

All of these facts are alleged to have been verified by States Attorney G. Grimson of Cavalier county.

The grand jury at Tallahassee, capital city of Florida and in the county where the murder occurred, opened its sessions last Monday, February 19, and one Senator Hodges of the state legislature there and retained by the Tabert family to assist Attorney Grimson was to have represented the whole case before that body if possible.

Indictment of Sheriff L. E. Jones of Leon county who sent back the money forwarded to the sentenced boy—three months in lieu of $25 fine—was sought. Jones, according to sworn statements of Attorney Grimson presented as a part of the mass of evidence given the legislature here today, in connection with the presentation of the resolution, admitted that the Putnam Lumber company paid him $20 for each convict he sent them for a period of three months.

Holds Sheriffs to Blame

Senator Hodges holds that the sheriff is as guilty of murder as Whipper Higginbotham, himself. Furthermore, he charges a professional interest of an attorney in affairs of his client, for the exposure of conditions under which convict labor of a group that to carry out Governor Harder's recommendation for a repeal of the contract convict labor law. The repeal was beaten then.

Today Hodges is building up a new case for the holding of what he terms the most inhuman practice in the history of a modern country. Gov. Hardee has interested himself personally in the case of the death of the youth farmer boy from North Dakota who started out to see the world and tasted only of the dregs.

Today the North Dakota legislature has been asked to pass special legislation seeking justice for the murder of the boy. The Cavalier county the county commissioners have passed resolutions condemning the atrocity and calling upon the people of the county for contributions to a fund to help prosecute the case.

The Langdon delegation declares that women's clubs, Commercial clubs, business men and citizens of Florida to which Attorney Grimson showed the facts developed were aghast at conditions and up in arms over the affair.

And part of the funds to be raised by popular subscription in Cavalier county will go to pay for thousands of circulars which will be distributed to every woman's club, Commercial club, Civic and Commerce organization in Florida, and which will tell the whole story. The Taberts will endeavor to make the lumber company pay, but they want to make the brutal officials pay and modern slavery systems be abolished.

Beautiful Home For Sale.

I am offering for sale one of the most desirable homes in the City of Bismarck. A Home of Homes. This is such a desirable home that I hesitate to describe it in writing. It consists of six rooms and bath; solid Oak floors down stairs and beautiful Birds Eye Maple up stairs; four rooms in basement including a play room and a toilet in basement. Has one of the best equipped Hot Water Heating Plants in the City. And it was built for a real home and not to sell on speculation. A modern and up to date garage. This desirable home faces south overlooking the Missouri River for miles. The trees and the velvet lawn surrounding this home are certainly very beautiful and desirable. I could write pages describing this home but it must be seen to be appreciated. Price $7500. Cash $4000. Location, River View. It would cost $12,000 to replace this property. Call or write

"RECTANGULAR" HOME—$8060

CURTIS SERVICE BUREAU, CLINTON, IA., PLANNED THIS BUILDING ALONG RECTANGULAR LINES.

The home pictured here is an example of a modern small-house building at its best. It has all the elements of economical construction and the quality of excellent appearance.

There are seven large rooms with an abundance of closets and built-in features. Yet it is not too large to be placed on an ordinary city lot, leaving room for a driveway to the garage.

The layout of rooms is rectangular, an arrangement of which Charles E. White Jr., a leading architect of the country, has said: "Rectangular houses permit a better arrangement of rooms than square houses."

Shelter Hall

The stair-hall is sheltered by a vestibule, containing a coat closet. The living room occupies one side of the house, with windows on three sides, and a fireplace in the center of the long outside wall. Under the window which overlooks the rear garden is a built-in window seat, with bookcases in the corners at each side.

At the front of the other side of the hall is the light, cheerful dining room. A pair of corner china closets give it a quaint charm, and a fire place across one corner adds to its hospitable air. The fourth corner is also cut across by the kitchen door, giving the room an unusual and pleasing shape.

Kitchen Aids

In the kitchen there are numerous built-in conveniences. A separate rear entry with a window in it is provided for the refrigerator. From this entry the basement stairs are accessible, so that laundry and ashes may be taken out of doors without intrusion into a spotless kitchen.

Each of the four bedrooms upstairs has a corner location, with windows on two sides. Each has a clothes closet, and one has also a built-in tray case. Near the bathroom there is a linen case built-in.

Not only has Thompson's affidavit been secured, but that of one Tom Wiggins another convict, and another man—ex-convict—whose back will bear to his dying day great welts an inch deep from beatings received.

Today an action for $50,000 damages against the Putnam Lumber company of Jacksonville, Fla., has been started in federal court in Florida, and criminal charges have been preferred against both Higginbotham, the whipper, and Willis, the lumbering boss.

The grand jury at Tallahassee, capital city of Florida and in the county where the murder occurred, opened its sessions last Monday, February 19, and one Senator Hodges of the state legislature there and retained by the Tabert family to assist Attorney Grimson was to have represented the whole case before that body if possible.

AFRICAN GRAPES DRIED FOR TRADE

London, Feb. 26.—Speaking to members of the staff of the British Empire Exhibition, Major Belcher, who has just returned from an empire tour, referred to the big trade in dried fruit in South Africa. He said a large trade was being done in dried grapes with the United States. Inside every pocket were instructions for the erection of a private distillery, which probably accounted for the growing demand by the Americans for dried grapes.

Cleaner Streets Banish Bootblacks

London, Feb. 26.—Cleaner streets are mainly responsible for the gradual disappearance of another of London's landmarks, the redcoated shoe blacks who formerly were stationed at prominent places in the City and West End.

Years ago these men, who numbered 3,000, made sufficient money in a few years to start business on their own account, but slakened demand for the shining of shoes depleted their number to about 400 most of whom find it hard to make a bare living. This is due partly to a mere about town being less careful of their appearance since the war; the fact that there is less money in people's pockets; and that the streets today are much cleaner as a result of asphalt paving on sidewalks and macadam in roadways.

VALIDITY OF FUTURES ACT BEFORE COURT

Not so long after the motion picture came into being two brothers, Wilbur and Orville Wright, in the face of ridicule and disbelief, conceived a skeptical world that heavier-than-air machines could fly and that the law of gravity was not immutable. Somehow we three of the greatest inventions of the age together: motion pictures, aviation and radio. And, in the last analysis, the motion picture has proven a great publicity medium for the other two. During the early days of the aeroplane it was only the news-reel which pictured the soaring plane, but latterly many photodramas have included in their plots some certain scenes which call for plane flights.

In "One Week of Love," the Selznick production, co-starring Elaine Hammerstein and Conway Tearle, which opens at the Capitol theatre tonight, not only is the aeroplane utilized to a degree, but actually the entire plot hinges on an aeroplane crash. The story has to do with a wealthy society girl, Beth Wynn, portrayed by Elaine Hammerstein, who, tiring of the hollowness of society, seeks some new thrill and finally agrees to marry Franklin Fraser if he can defeat her in an aeroplane race.

The race is staged and Beth gets lost in the fog and, after harrowing experiences, crashes into a hut over the Mexican border and finds herself in the hands of outlaws, one American and several Mexicans. They gamble for her and the American Buck Fearnley, (Conway Tearle), wins her and takes her with him to his hut in the fastnesses of the Mexican mountains. His attempts to win her form the basis of the story and it is one which holds the spectator spell-bound through every scene.

"One Week of Love" is from an original story by Edward J. Montagne and George Archinbaud and was directed by the latter. It was created especially to offer a satisfactory vehicle to Miss Hammerstein and Conway Tearle and both stars are ideally cast. The role of Buck Fearnley is of the virile type in which Tearle excels, while Miss Hammerstein as the petted and pampered child of wealth outdoes anything she has yet offered to the screen.

VETERANS BUREAU STUDENTS ARE MAKING GOOD RECORD IN COLLEGES

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 26.—At the North Dakota Agricultural College, Fargo, North Dakota, the comparative record of U. S. Veterans' Bureau students and the regular students is very interesting. There were 876 regular students in attendance during the fall quarter and 25 of them ranked high enough to win places on the honor roll. This was a trifling under three per cent of the total number enrolled.

There were also 106 U. S. Veterans' Bureau trainees enrolled, and five of them, or approximately five per cent were on the honor roll. The average standing of these five men for the quarter, was 92.6 per cent.

At the last election of the Draftsmen and Builders Club, every officer named for this organization was a Veterans' Bureau trainee, which shows the activity of these men and the esteem in which they are held at this institution.

REPORT OUT AMENDMENT

Washington, Feb. 26.—A resolution providing for submission for another constitutional amendment to provide for a popular referendum of future constitutional changes was reported out today by the senate judicial committee.

CHRISTOPHER BRAMBLE, of Brooklyn, Retired Chief Quartermaster U. S. Navy, who says his determination to try Tanlac was the wisest decision he ever made as the medicine completely restored his health.

Christopher Bramble, 783 1/2 Monroe St., Brooklyn, N. Y., Chief Quartermaster U. S. Navy, retired, is now an ardent champion of the merits of Tanlac.

"I'll stand by Tanlac to the very last," declared Mr. Bramble, "for it has helped me back on my feet and I am feeling like a new man now. I had suffered from stomach trouble for two years and was in an awful run-down condition. My appetite went back on me and when I did eat a little something I would suffer pain and misery for hours. My nerves were all out of fix. I would lie awake tossing and rolling until almost day, and I felt weak and tired all the time. I had no energy to do anything and just felt any way but right."

"Well, I just kept on losing weight and getting worse until I concluded to try Tanlac, and that was the wisest decision I ever made. It's the only medicine I ever saw that does all they say it will. I now eat three hearty meals a day and never feel a touch of indigestion, and my appetite was never better, even when I was a school boy. My sleep is sound and restful and I get up mornings feeling refreshed and fine. My weight has increased and I have been built up until I never felt better in my life. If anybody doubts this statement just let them see me."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists. Over 85 million bottles sold. —Adv.

SENATE HERE PASSES GROSS RESOLUTION

Would Base Value of Currency on That of Staple Products of Soil

Senator Rusch Wants Investigation of Conduct in State Offices

The state senate, by a vote of 22 to 21, adopted a resolution submitted by Senator Gross of Grant county, memorializing Congress to base the value of money on that of such staple products as wheat and cotton, the resolution being along the line of the plan recently advocated by Thomas A. Edison.

Senator Gross delivered a lengthy talk in favor of the plan, as being more equitable than the present. Senator Lynch replied briefly, stating that he did not believe the plan was workable.

Although a constitutional majority was not given the resolution, Senator Plocher, presiding, ruled that it was passed.

The resolution follows:

The fundamentals principles of justice require that:

Whereas, contracting parties should share equally the results of deflation, of property values.

And Whereas, if the above principle of justice were embodied into law there would be no deflation, and

Whereas, the securities for investments would be more permanent than the variable gold dollar, and

Whereas, indebtedness which involves a certain number of bushels of wheat or a certain number of acres of land before deflation, should involve the same amount of the same permanent standards after deflation, and

Whereas, our fluctuating standard would be more stable if attached by definite ratios to permanent standards like bushels of wheat or bales of cotton, and

Whereas, the embodiment of the above principles of justice into law would be of untold benefit to the people and would aid materially in reestablishing the prosperity of the country.

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, That this Legislature memorialize Congress, that the foregoing principles be enacted into law, thus safeguarding inherent rights and establishing future prosperity on a more secure foundation.

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be spread upon the Journal and that one be sent to each of our representatives in Congress.

Investigation Asked

Two more concurrent resolutions were introduced in the senate by Senators Rusch and Nathan respectively.

The Rusch resolution calls on the governor to look into the advisability of having an efficiency expert investigate the affairs of the state with a view to better co-operation, economy, etc. among the various departments, and to report to the next session of the legislature the result of his investigations and any recommendations he may wish to make in connection therewith.

The Nathan resolution is simply an attempt to put through in another form the bill that failed several days ago and to report to the law passed by the people in 1920 which provided that farm loans may be made by the Bank of North Dakota to actual farmers only. It also seeks to prevent the bank management from making rulings as to the nature of farm products on farms on which loans are asked.

Three administration bills passed the senate during the afternoon. These were the measures levying a tax to make up the deficit of the North Home Building association, that for the re-issuance of bonds of low denominations issued by the Bank of North Dakota which have up to the present time been found practically unsaleable to outside investors, and House Bill 245 which clears the way for the issuance of the new bonds of the state mill and elevator provided for in its companion bill which passed the senate a few days ago.

On only one of these bills was serious opposition put up by the Nonpartisan League members. This was the measure for the Home Building association deficit tax on which the vote was 29 to 17.

Prior to the final vote on the bill Senator Baker succeeded in having the bill amended so as to reduce the rate of the levy from one-tenth to one-twentieth of a mill. In spite of this amendment however the majority of the league members voted against the passage of the bill.

PURPOSE OF I. V. A. ORGANIZATION IS SET FORTH IN STATEMENT

The independent conference here adopted resolutions setting for the purpose of the meeting and also a "Declaration of Principles and Purpose" of them reorganized Independent Voters Association.

The declaration of principles follows:

Declaration of Principles and Purpose

The Independent Voters Association is founded and maintained for the purpose of promoting honesty, efficiency and economy in the administration of our state government.

It holds that individual integrity in public and private life is an essential fundamental for the maintenance of popular government and economic independence in fact of civilization itself.

It stands for the perpetuation of our constitutional and representative form of government because it guarantees political independence and personal liberty; it affords protection for the property of its citizens and safe-guards the rights of minorities when mobs or hasty majorities would under the lash of unscrupulous dagmagoes, be unfair and unwise.

Millions of dollars and untold energy have been spent in the development of the methods and institutions that are now employed in the production, manufacture and distribution of the necessities of life, and this organization maintains that there is greater hope for solution of our marketing problems in efforts to improve on the individual and cooperative institutions that we now have than in the present day tendency toward governmental paternalism as exemplified in socialism and in the program advocated by the leaders of the Nonpartisan league. Consistent with this principle this organization advocates the doing away with all duplication of governmental agencies in the form of special boards, commissions, inspectors, etc. and developing a greater consciousness of governmental responsibility in local officials, and a greater desire for law enforcement among the rank and file of the voters of the state.

This organization maintains that all differences that may arise as to governmental policy must be determined by the ballot and to that end our election laws must make it possible for the voters within any unit of our government to freely and fully express themselves on any issue arising within one unit without at the same time having to forfeit their right to likewise express themselves on other issues that may arise in other units.

Consistent with this policy every effort to force a settlement of political and economic questions by violent and lawless means such as are now resorted to by the I. W. W. and other similar organizations must be promptly prevented by stern laws courageously and impartially enforced.

For the purpose of having the foregoing principles applied in the administration of the government of the state of North Dakota the membership of this organization is dedicated to the task of advocating such principles on all proper occasions and securing the nomination and election of candidates for state and legislative offices who can be depended upon to support and apply these principles in their respective official capacities.

Be it further resolved by the Senate of the state of North Dakota, the house of representatives concurring that the legislature of the Commonwealth of Florida is hereby memorialized and requested by the legislature of the Commonwealth of North Dakota to cause a full investigation to be made of the circumstances surrounding the conviction, conviction and death of said Martin Tabert and to cause such action to be taken as will most surely and expeditiously lead to the punishment of all parties concerned therein.

Resolution on Death of Martin Tabert in Convict Camp Is Reported

FEEL INDIGNATION

A resolution introduced by Senator W. R. Ponder of Cavalier and addressed to the legislature of the state of Florida asking for a complete investigation into the death of Martin Tabert, 22, Munich, N. D. who is alleged to have been flogged to death when "leashed out" as a convict to the Putnam Lumber company, was reported out of the federal relations committee of the senate for passage upon the unanimous vote of the members of the committee. Motion for adoption was made by Senator John W. Benson, (N) Rolette, chairman of the committee.

The resolution cites in some detail the charges against the sheriff of Leon county Florida who returned money sent to young Tabert in the sheriff's care to pay the fine of $25.00; the charges that the sheriff returned the letter with the notation "party gone," and while in that condition was so flogged that he died; that there was a "corrupt understanding between the managers of the Putnam Lumber company logging camp, the sheriff and others to secure prisoners to operate the lumbering operations, and all of the other alleged facts as set forth in the affidavits secured by States Attorney G. Grimson of Cavalier county North Dakota, and Senator Hodges of Florida.

The resolution also cites that "while the legislative assembly is convinced by the showing made to it of the substantial accuracy of the facts heretofore set forth, the state of Florida is in no manner party to the great wrong and that as represented by its own legislature will feel the same sense of indignation as is felt by the State of North Dakota, represented by its legislature and that it will go to the utmost of its ability to redress the wrong done to the

TUNNEY REGAINS HIS OLD TITLE

New York, Feb. 27.—Gene Tunney, idol of Greenwich Village, regained the American light heavyweight championship last night when he gained the judge's decision over Harry Greb of Pittsburgh, the title holder, in a fifteen round contest at Madison Square Garden.

The decision met with mingled bores and applause despite Tunney's popularity among the great majority of fans, and came as a surprise to those at the ringside, who had given Greb a wide margin on points in most of the rounds.

Tunney was baffled by Greb's whirlwind style of attack throughout the early part of the bout. He finished the last two rounds, however, with the only effective aggressiveness he had shown, dazing the champion once with a hard smash to the jaw. This closing rally of the challenger, plus consideration probably given to alleged foul holding tactics employed by Greb in several rounds, was believed to have swayed the judge's verdict, however unsatisfactory it was to a larger portion of the crowd.

While Greb landed at least three blows to one for his rival, few of them did much damage. Tunney's body attack, especially in the 14th round, at times gave Greb's rushes, but the Pittsburgher blocked most of the New Yorker's blows.

Greb's Tactics Criticized

Tactics used by Greb, which his opponents handlers claimed were unfair, were the subject of a long parley at the start of the bout. Referee Patsy Haley was vigorous in warning Greb for holding in several rounds, going to the Pittsburgher's corner at the end of the 12th round to emphasize his warning.

The only round which Tunney earned decisively, in the opinion of ringside critics, was the 14th. He showed aggressiveness in the fourth, tenth and fifteenth, but except in these and two or three rounds in the early part of the bout, which were classed as even, Greb's forcing tactics gave him a substantial margin on points, in the remaining rounds. Greb weighed 165 1/2 and Tunney 174.

Tunney's victory restored to him the crown he lost to Greb in a 15 round bout at the Garden last May.

In the 12 round semi-final contest, Clonie Tait, Canadian lightweight, was awarded the decision over Ray Mitchell of Philadelphia.

Every spoonful of Kellogg's Bran helps free you from toxic poisons!

Constipation is largely responsible for auto-intoxication that leads to dangerous diseases unless it is not only checked but permanently relieved. Constipation, in fact, is the basis of many of human ailments which could be headed off if people would only help rid themselves of this serious, health-undermining condition, which can be easily done.

Constipation must be fought to a finish—not with pills and cathartics, which are dangerous to the delicate membranes of the intestines and temporary at best—but with nature's greatest cereal health food—Bran—Kellogg's Bran, which is as delicious as it is beneficial.

Kellogg's Bran is wonderful in its work because it is ALL BRAN. And, to get permanent relief, ALL BRAN is a necessity, for it is the "bulk" of Kellogg's Bran that sweeps and purifies, ridding the system of poisons and bringing conditions to normal. Eat Kellogg's Bran regularly—at least two tablespoons daily; as much with each meal in chronic cases—and we guarantee that you will get relief permanently and naturally.

Kellogg's Bran is delicious. You do not have to learn to like it. Eat it as a cereal or sprinkle on or mix with hot or cold cereals. Or, cook it with hot cereals, allowing two tablespoons for each person. Kellogg's makes wonderful muffins, griddle cakes, raisin bread, macaroons, etc. Keeps on package.

"SAM" PEPYS ACCOUNT IN BANK IN RED

London, Feb. 27.—The bank in which Samuel Pepys kept an account which remained overdrawn when he died—has just celebrated its 250th anniversary. It is one of the three oldest banks in London, and goes by the name of Messrs. Hoare & Company. Since the beginning it has been ruled by the Hoare family, eldest son succeeding eldest son as head of the firm.

Time has not changed many of the customs begun by the founders. To this day a member of the house of Hoare sleeps every night in one of the quiet bedrooms overlooking a peaceful garden in the rear of the banking house, which is in Fleet Street. Every morning at nine o'clock he unlocks the big front door with a huge key. This tradition began in the seventeenth century. In those days coaches could not be depended upon to get one down to business on time, so one of the partners was assigned to sleep at the bank.

In the old days a leather black-jack hung outside the door, the bank being at the sign of "Ye Olde Leather Bottle." The black-jack is still a part of the bank, and so is a fine old Georgian stove, and quill pens. Adding machines have not noised their way into the business.

In the rear is a parlor said to be built on the site of Dr. Johnson's Mitre Tavern. Under the carpet is a hole through which wine barrels used to be lowered into the vaults, now piled with deed and plate boxes.

A staircase leads to handsome family apartments, where every day the partners still around a gleaming mahogany table, using an old sand sprinkler for a pepper pot. A wafer—serves as a mustard-jar. The partners about the table were made room, and around the walls hung portraits of the generations of eldest sons who have ruled the bank.

Pepys' account is to be seen in the earlier of the surviving ledgers. It records that he deposited 200 pounds in 1680—long after the diary stops. Pepys soon overdraw the account by 13 pounds, and it never thereafter balanced. Later, Cromwell did business at the bank, but his account did not slip into the red.

START DAY AS MILLIONAIRE END IT AS PAUPER

Essen, Feb. 27.—To be a millionaire every morning after a short visit to the bank and retire every night a pauper; hand the bootblack 1,000 marks for a shoeshine; pay for a modest lunch a sum that in 1911 would have been considered an adequate yearling-bourgeois income; part with the pre-war price of an entire barrel of beer in order to be served with a small glass of Pilsener, are some of the daily experiences of foreign observers of the occupation of the Ruhr.

But smoldering hatred and bitter rancor on all sides, ill-concealed animosity toward all foreigners; petty pin pricks under cover of obsequious obedience, and a deep spirit of revenge, bring one back to the fact that this region is under that most hateful of regimes: "military occupation."

"Let me have a couple of millions," is the common request of acquaintances to whom one would hesitate to lend five dollars in America.

"Dirty swine of a Frenchman," was the salute that greeted an American correspondent when he came out of the post office the other day, conversing in French with some of his Paris colleagues. The Germans never make a mistake about spotting a foreigner, and to them all foreigners are French, therefore hateful.

An American had occasion to run down to Cologne the other day, and as the trains were not operating owing to the strike he was forced to hire an automobile. It was an old model of some years back, but running smoothly it made the trip to Cologne and back without breakdown, and in good time.

"One hundred and forty-five thousand marks," the chauffeur said quite naturally. The American paid without a murmur.

"How much did you pay for this car," asked the American.

"Twenty thousand marks," replied the chauffeur without blinking.

Rep. Anderson, Burleigh, said ten of his neighbors figured they lost $4,000 in one year through killings by coyotes or turkeys and been shown conclusively that rust was spread by the barberry bush, and that eradication would save the state millions of dollars. The motion of Rep. Weld of Wells to kill the bill failed, and the motion of Rep. Twichell of Cass to accept the committee report favoring passage was accepted. The vote was 60 to 22.

ONLY MAN WHO FOUGHT DEWEY AND WON OUT

William H. Savage, California Attorney Tells Story of Encounter

San Pedro, Cal., Feb. 27.—William H. Savage, an attorney here, is credited with being the only man who won a fight with the late Admiral George Dewey. The fight was a fist engagement between the two men and took place on the quarterdeck of the old sloop-of-war Mississippi in 1902. Dewey was then a second lieutenant and Savage was a private in the Marines and on the day of his fight with Dewey was acting as orderly to Captain Melancthon.

In a letter written on the U. S. S. Olympia by Admiral Dewey on June 16, 1898, the original of which Mr. Savage treasures, the hero of Manila Bay recalls his fight with Savage. He wrote, in part: "I trust I have my temper more in hand now."

Mr. Savage, a former judge and state senator tells of the fight as follows:

"I had been instructed to take orders from no one except Capt. Melancthon. I went to Lieut Dewey to report one bell.

"One bell, sir," I said.

"Strike it," he ordered.

"The captain has given me instructions to take orders from no one except himself," I replied.

"You strike that bell," he commanded.

"I won't," I retorted.

"I'll make you do it."

"You can't do it."

Dewey then struck at me and knocked me to the deck. I leaped to my feet and rushed at him. He went down in a heap against a hatch as I struck him on the jaw, and I leaped upon him when he got up. We rolled around on the deck for more than fifteen minutes before being separated by the sergeant of the guard. I was thrown in the brig.

"I was brought before the mast and Lieut Dewey was there also. A was covered with blood having had no opportunity to wash. But Dewey had washed and changed clothing. His face was badly battered and cut and both eyes were black.

"What the devil have you men been doing?" roared the Captain as he looked us over.

"I had no business striking him, sir," said Dewey.

"I am to blame," I retorted.

Dewey turned to me and said: "I beg your pardon, sir, but I should not have lost my temper and struck you while on duty."

"The captain was astonished at this display of politeness from two men who had been so badly battered by each other's fists and told us both to go back to duty."

In his letter to Judge Savage, Admiral Dewey said: "How few of us who were on board the old Mississippi then are 'alive' now." That was written in 1898, and today Judge Savage says he is the sole remaining member of the old Mississippi crew. Judge Savage was born in Ireland in 1836.

REP. PATTERSON SLIPS AWAY TO GET MARRIED

Representative Girdell Patterson of Renville county absented himself from the house Saturday. His friends feared he was ill.

He returned this afternoon, smiling, and confided the reason.

Rep. Patterson traveled to Glendive, Montana, met there Miss Anna Anderson of Spokane, Washington. They were married and returned to Bismarck for the remainder of the session after which they will go to Mr. Patterson's farm six miles from Donnybrook.

Rep. Patterson was given hearty greetings by his colleagues. Rep. Walker, however, demanded an explanation on the floor of the house of his absence and Rep. Patterson replied by asking the speaker to name a committee to take charge of the lobby refreshment stand and treat the members. The invitation wasn't accepted, and a motion to extend the courtesies of the floor to Mrs. Patterson carried unanimously.

Miss Anderson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Z. Anderson of Dresser Junction, Wisconsin. After graduating from the Univer-

"SAM" PEPPS ACCOUNT IN BANK IN RED

London, Feb. 27.—The bank in which Samuel Pepsy kept an account which remained overdrawn when he died—has just celebrated its 250th anniversary. It is one of the three oldest banks in London, and goes by the name of Messrs. Hoare & Company. Since the beginning it has been ruled by the Hoare family, eldest son succeeding eldest son as head of the firm.

Time has not changed many of the customs begun by the founders. To this day a member of the house of Hoare sleeps every night in one of the quiet bedrooms overlooking a peaceful garden in the rear of the banking house, which is in Fleet Street. Every morning at nine o'clock he unlocks the big front door with a huge key. This tradition began in the seventeenth century. In those days coaches could not be depended upon to get one down to business on time, so one of the partners was assigned to sleep at the bank.

In the old days a leather black-jack hung outside the door, the bank being at the sign of "Ye Olde Leather Bottell." The black-jack is still a part of the bank, and so is a fine old Georgian stove, and quill pens. Adding machines have not noised their way into the business.

In the rear is a parlor said to be built on the site of Dr. Johnson's Mitre Tavern. Under the carpet is a hole through which wine barrels used to be lowered into the vaults, now piled with deed and plate boxes. A staircase leads to handsome family apartments, where every day the partners still around a gleaming mahogany table, using an old sand sprinkler for a pepper pot. A waiter serves as a mustard jar. The chairs about the table were made by Chippendale especially for the room, and around the walls hang portraits of the generations of old-fashioned bankers who have ruled the bank.

Pepsy's account is to be seen in the earlier of the surviving ledgers. It records that he deposited 200 pounds in 1680—long after the diary stops. Pepsy soon overdraw the account by 13 pounds, and it never thereafter balanced. Later, Cromwell did business at the bank, but his account did not slip into the red.

Essen, Feb. 27.—To be a millionaire every morning after a short visit to the bank and retire every night a pauper; hand the bootblack 1,000 marks for a shoeshine; pay for a modest lunch a sum that in 1914 would have been considered an adequate yearling bourgeois income; part with the pre-war price of an entire barrel of beer in order to be served with a small glass of Pilsener, are some of the daily experiences of foreign observers of the occupation of the Ruhr.

Science proves that only 5 in every 100 need ever be bald. But thousands of men and women, too, are greatly concerned by falling hair, which leads to baldness. This is positively unnecessary, for Van Ess, the new scientific liquid scalp massage, is all that is necessary to remove dandruff, stop itching scalp and grow new hair. Van Ess, through its scientifically designed applicator, goes to the roots of the hair. It cleans out the infected sebous gland, causes all of the trouble. Tones, cleanses, and restores the hair roots which still live and in a short time develops a growth of new, healthy hair.

Be sure to get Van Ess. We will give you a signed guarantee.

SENATE HERE
RESOLUTION

Would Base Value of Currency on That of Staple Products of Soil

Senator Rusch Wants Investigation of Conduct in State Offices

The state senate, by a vote of 23 to 21, adopted a resolution submitted by Senator Gross of Grant county, memorializing Congress to base the value of money on that of such staple products as wheat and cotton, the resolution being along the line of the plan recently advocated by Thomas A. Edison.

Senator Gross delivered a lengthy talk in favor of the plan, as being more equitable than the present. Senator Lynch replied briefly, stating that he did not believe the plan was workable.

Although a constitutional majority was not given the resolution, Senator Floyhart, presiding, ruled that it was passed.

The resolution follows:
The fundamental principles of justice require that:

Whereas, contracting parties should share equally the results of deflation, of property values.

And Whereas, if the above principle of justice were embodied into law there would be no deflation, and

Whereas, the securities for investments represent more permanent natural values than the variable gold dollar, and

Whereas, indebtedness which involves a certain number of bushels of wheat or a certain number of acres of land before redemption, should involve the same amount of the same permanent standards after deflation, and

Whereas, our fluctuating standard would be made more stable if attached by definite ratios to permanent standards like bushels of wheat or bales of cotton, and

Whereas, the embodiment of the above principles of justice into law would be of untold benefit to the people and would aid materially in reestablishing the prosperity of the country,

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, That this Legislature memorialize Congress, that the foregoing principles be enacted into law, thus safeguarding inherent rights and establishing future prosperity on a more secure foundation.

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be spread upon the journal and that one be sent to each of our representatives in Congress.

Investigation Asked
Two more concurrent resolutions were introduced in the senate by Senators Rusch and Nathan respectively.

The Rusch resolution calls on the governor to look into the advisability of having an efficiency expert investigate the affairs of the state with a view to better co-operation, economy, etc. among the various departments, and that he report to the next session of the legislature the result of his investigations and any recommendations he may wish to make in connection therewith.

The Nathan resolution is simply an attempt to put through in another form the bill that failed several days ago for the repeal of the law passed by the people in 1920 which provided that farm loans may be made by the Bank of North Dakota to actual farmers only. It also seeks to prevent the bank management from making rulings as to the nature of farm products on farms on which loans are asked.

Three administration bills passed the senate during the afternoon. These were the measures levying a tax to make up the deficit of the North Home Building association, that for the re-issuance of bonds of low denominations issued by the Bank of North Dakota which have unsalable and re-issuance in marketable denominations. Passed 37 to 7.

H. B. 216—Compensation bill to the above for re-issuance of mill and elevator bonds in larger denominations. 43 to 0.

H. B. 212—Originally called for levy of one-tenth of a mill tax to wipe out deficit and pay losses of homebuilding department. Amended by senate to be one-twentieth of a mill. Passed so amended 29 to 17.

H. B. 233—An act to place stringent laws on the state books relative to use of narcotic, providing strict means of enforcing the anti-narcotic laws and for an injunction against premises where opium is smoked or narcotics of any kind sold or disposed of. Passed 47 to 0.

On only one of these bills was serious opposition put up by the Nonpartisan League members. This was the measure for the Home Building association deficit tax on which the vote was 29 to 17.

Prior to the final vote on the bill Senator Baker succeeded in having the bill amended so as to reduce the rate of the levy from one-tenth to one-twentieth of a mill. In spite of this amendment however the majority of the league members voted against the passage of the bill.

The declaration of principles follows:
Declaration of Principles and Purpose

The Independent Voters Association is founded and maintained for the purpose of promoting honesty, efficiency and economy in the administration of our state government.

It holds that individual integrity in public and private life is an essential fundamental for the maintenance of popular government and economic independence in fact of civilization itself.

It stands for the preservation of vate home and the philosophy of life based on the Christian religion.

It stands for the perpetuation of our constitutional and representative form of government because it guarantees political independence and personal liberty; it affords protection for the property of its citizens and safe-guards the rights of minorities when mobs or hasty majorities would under the lash of unscrupulous demagogues, be unfair and unwise.

Millions of dollars and untold energy have been spent in the development of the methods and institutions that are now employed in the production, manufacture and distribution of the necessities of life, and this organization maintains that there is greater hope for solution of our marketing problems in efforts to improve the individual and cooperative institutions that we now have than in the present day tendency to

FLORIDA ACT
IN DEATH CASE

Resolution on Death of Martin Tabert in Convict Camp
Is Reported

FEEL INDIGNATION
A resolution introduced by Senator W. R. Porter of Cavalier and addressed to the legislature of the state of Florida asking for a complete investigation into the death of Martin Tabert, 22, Munich, N. D., who is alleged to have been dropped to death when "leaved out as a convict to the Putnam Lumber company," was reported out of federal relations committee of the senate for passage upon the unanimous vote of the members of the committee. Motion for adoption was made by Senator John W. Benson, (N) Rolette, chairman of the committee.

The resolution cites in some detail the charges against the sheriff of Leon county Florida who returned money sent to young Tabert in the sheriff's care to pay the fine of $25.00; the charges that the sheriff returned the letter with the notation "party gone"; that Tabert was ill and suffering, and while in that condition was so fogged that he died; that there was a "corrupt understanding between the managers of the Putnam Lumber company logging camp, the sheriff and others to secure prisoners to operate the lumbering operations, and all of the other alleged facts as set forth in the affidavits secured by States Attorney G. Grimson of Cavalier county North Dakota, and Senator Hodges of Florida.

The resolution then cites that "while the legislative assembly is convinced by the showing made to it of the substantial accuracy of the facts heretofore set forth, the state of Florida is in no manner party to the great wrong and that as represented by its own legislature will feel the same sense of indignation as is felt by the State of North Dakota, represented by its legislature and that it will go to the utmost of its ability to redress the wrong done to the citizen of a sister state and make impossible the commission of such abuses in the future.

"Be it further resolved by the Senate of the state of North Dakota, the house of representatives concurring that the legislature of the Commonwealth of Florida is hereby memorialized and requested by the legislature of the Commonwealth of North Dakota, to cause a full investigation to be made of the circumstances surrounding the conviction, leasing and death of said Martin Tabert and to cause such action to be taken as will most surely and expeditiously lead to the punishment of all parties concerned therein.

Sent to Governor
Be it further resolved that the state of North Dakota in a spirit of amity and friendship extends its greeting from the furthestmost side of the union to the state of Florida and requests that such recognition as this communication shall receive be transmitted to the governor of the state of North Dakota, this assembly being about to adjourn.

The resolution ordered that an engrossed copy of the resolution attested by the proper officers of the senate and house, be sent to both houses of the Florida legislature by the secretary of state. The Florida assembly is called to convene at Tallahassee on April 1.

TUNNEY REGAINS
HIS OLD TITLE

New York, Feb. 27.—Gene Tunney, idol of Greenwich Village, regained the American light heavyweight championship last night which he gained the judge's decision over Harry Greb of Pittsburgh, the title holder, in a fifteen round contest at Madison Square Garden.

The decision met with mingled bores and applause despite Tunney's popularity among the great majority of fans, and came as a surprise to those at the ringside, who had given Greb a wide margin on points in most of the rounds.

Tunney was baffled by Greb's whirlwind style of attack throughout the early part of the bout. He finished the last two rounds, however, with the only effective aggressiveness he had shown, dazing the champion once with a hard smash to the jaw. This closing rally of the challenger, plus consideration probably given to alleged foul holding tactics employed by Greb in several rounds, was believed to have swayed the judge's verdict, however, unsatisfactory it was to a larger portion of the crowd.

While Greb landed at least three blows to one for his rival, few of them did much damage. Tunney's body attack, especially in the 14th round, at times checked Greb's rushes, but the Pittsburgher blocked most of the New Yorker's blows.

Greb's Tactics Criticized
Tactics used by Greb, which his opponents handlers claimed were unfair, were the subject of a long parley at the start of the bout. Referee Patsy Haley was vigorous in warning Greb for holding in several rounds, going to the Pittsburgher's corner at the end of the 12th round to emphasize his warning.

The only round which Tunney earned decisively, in the opinion of ringside critics, was the 14th. He showed aggressiveness in the fourth, tenth and fifteenth, but except in these and two or three rounds in the early part of the bout, which were classed as even, Greb's forcing tactics gave him a substantial margin on points, in the remaining rounds. Greb weighed 165 1/2 and Tunney 174.

Tunney's victory restored to him the crown he lost to Greb in a 15 round bout at the Garden last May. In the 12 round semi-final contest, Clonie Tait, Canadian lightweight, was awarded the decision over Ray Mitchell of Philadelphia.

Every spoonful of Kellogg's Bran helps free you from toxic poisons!

Constipation is largely responsible for auto-intoxication that leads to dangerous diseases unless it is not only checked but permanently relieved. Constipation, in fact, is the basis of a majority of human ailments which could be headed off if people would only help rid themselves of this serious health-undermining condition, which can be easily done.

Constipation must be fought to a finish—not with pills and cathartics, which are dangerous to the delicate membranes of the intestines and temporary at best—but with nature's greatest cereal health food—Bran—Kellogg's Bran, which is as delicious as it is beneficial.

Kellogg's Bran is wonderful in its work because it is ALL BRAN. And, to get permanent relief, ALL BRAN is necessary, for it is the "bulk" of Kellogg's Bran that sweeps and purifies, ridding the system of poisons and bringing conditions to normal. Let Kellogg's Bran regularly—at least two tablespoonfuls daily; as much with each meal in chronic cases—and we guarantee that you will get relief permanently and naturally.

Kellogg's Bran is delicious. You do not have to learn to like it. Eat it as a cereal or sprinkle on or mix with hot or cold cereals. Or, cook it with hot cereals, allowing two tablespoonfuls for each person. Kellogg's makes wonderful muffins, griddle cakes, raisin bread, macaroons, etc. Recipes on package.

Leading hotels, clubs and restaurants serve Kellogg's Bran in individual packages. All grocers.

THE RED BEAR
Five hundred thousand Russians will die from hunger and disease caused by under-nourishment, this year, before the 1923 crops are harvested.
We get this in a letter from William Garner, former American newspaperman, now connected with the American relief organization in Russia.
Five hundred thousand may seem like a big figure, and it is. But in the autumn of 1921 nearly 24 millions were starving in the Russian famine districts, out of their total population of 42 millions.
In the year that followed, writes Garner, not more than 1,500,000 Russians died from famine. This is the estimate of some of the leading American officials who have been feeling the hungry over there.
American relief broke the backbone of the famine. The lives we saved probably run into the millions. A good job, well done.

One of the greatest handicaps to Russian recovery, says Garner, is that so many horses, cows, sheep and goats were killed for food. American relief, however, put the brakes on that.
Garner writes: "Russia will not be able to feed its children properly until the cows and goats are brought up to the normal number. And it will not be fully able to take advantage of its available agricultural land until its draft horses are again equal to their pre-war number or replaced by motor cars and tractors."

Garner's report struck us as interesting enough to pass along, especially because it conveys the idea that a lot of the reports from Russia have been exaggerated. He quotes American officials as estimating that the number of Russians actually starving this winter does not exceed 5,000,000. Our charity representatives have the situation in hand about as well as could be expected, both in the matter of food and medical supplies. For one thing, the cholera and typhus epidemics are getting under control.

Garner sums up the general Russian situation by saying that there has been a pronounced change for the better. The people are as badly clothed as ever. But they seem animated by a more energetic spirit. "They have more and more the air of having something to do, whereas a year ago they had the appearance of having nothing to do," and nothing to look forward to.

"The change for the better may be noticed in the shop windows, in the fact that the streets are kept cleaner, the road service is appreciably better. The street car, the electric lighting and gas systems—in Moscow, at least—are better than a year ago."

The Red Bear, gaunt and weak, but with renewed interest in life and a desire to do, is slowly emerging from his den. Recovery will be slow. But it's started—according to Garner.

"TUT"
Old King Tutankhamen, judging by the plunder taken from his tomb, enjoyed the top-notch of wealth, power, fame and luxury—as luxury was conceived in the crude life of more than 3000 years ago. No doubt, he imagined that people would forever speak of him with awe.
We wonder what his reaction would be if he could come back and find facetious newspaper headlines calling him "King Tut." It's a super-illustration of Father Time's irony. However, breezy Americans are giving King Tut their highest honor—a nickname. In America the slate is wiped clean each morning. We have respect only for the future. Prepare for Tut Dances and Tut Comedians in musical shows. A shrewd fashion house already is selling Tut Prints.

South America sends rumor of an agreement by which 500,000 Japanese will move to Brazil and form a colony. Brazil is glad to get them, to help develop her natural resources. And overcrowded Japan is glad they're leaving, for the Japanese government will pay the immigrants' expenses.
This is a big racial movement. But it is as a small creek to a giant river, compared with the huge multitudes that will abandon Europe, and move to other countries within the next two decades. Several million Germans probably would be on their way to America—if they could leave Germany and get through our immigration restriction.

DEADLY
The automobile killed more than 12,000 Americans last year, announces the National Safety Council.
A little arithmetic reveals the rather startling fact that one auto out of every 1000 kills someone each year.
At which rate, the motorist who drives a car 10 years has one chance in 100 of killing himself, a passenger or a pedestrian.
Better paste this on the windshield.

COUE
Coue's lectures in our country netted him over $16,000 for his Paris clinic and $10,000 for a national Coue Institute which will be established in the United States.
He delivered 18 lectures. Coue himself got only his expenses. He's a good scout, with the true scientific attitude. From now on he will gradually recede into dim memory. The Tut Craze is eclipsing him.

BIRDMEN
Haig, English aviator, starts his plane and climbs to a height of 20,000 feet in less than 13 minutes. No bird can do that, as you know from watching feathered fliers compelled to make great circles as they slowly climb aloft.
Within our generation man in every way will become a better flier than any bird. Who says we cannot improve on nature?

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here for the information of our readers, who may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

Premier Jan Christian Smuts of the Union of South Africa, a leading figure in the creation of the League of Nations, regards the present European situation as "more fraught with peril than it has been at any other time in the past hundred years." "The statesmen," he says, "seem to have lost all sense of proportion. They appear to be prepared to sacrifice even the world's future to their own ideas of security and reparations. Why, the men are mad."
The wise men of the world are having a difficult time to reconcile the course of French statesmanship with any plausible theory or reason. Lloyd George is of the belief that the extension of the permanent boundary of France to the Rhine and the political dismemberment of Germany have been in the back of the minds of French leaders since the conclusion of the war. There must be leaders of French thought, he believes, of French politics, who would recognize even such a consummation of national selfishness as incompatible with the future peace of Europe and the security of France. History has too often demonstrated the ultimate futility of conquest and the subjugation of foreign peoples. Common observation ought to convince French leadership of the menace of Russia and the attractiveness of the present situation for the turning loose of chaos under Russian leadership.

There appears to be something besides imperial ambition, reparations or national safety underlying the course of the French leadership. Bonaparte's premiership is the direct product of political exploitation of wartime hatred. Having fed the flames of chauvinism he to accept the consequences. When the time for action came he had not the courage to admit his folly. He is described as having given the order to advance with troubled countenance. Instead of dissolving popular ignorance he and his associates inflamed popular hatred, fear and greed. The result is the sacrifice of humanity to popular passions.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch

THE ADVANCE IN SUGAR
The advance in the price of sugar, coming along with a decided bull movement on the stock exchange, may be a mere flurry. Again, it may be a part of the secondary inflation that some of the experts have been looking for about five years after the war. How long will sugar wait? It is a question that will follow. According to the old tales it would run its course in a year or two and be succeeded by a smash of terrible proportions. But there is always the American stock of gold to stand between the price and a serious financial panic. With all that gold and the Federal Reserve Bank's system, it is not the price of sugar, but the price of currency, that may not be necessary to have a smash of the old kind. The variety of social and economic follies. It is easy to indulge in prophecy but the world has changed that one casts the horseshoe with much less confidence than he did a decade ago—Lincoln Journal.

Bismarck Boys

The St. Mary's and Richholt basketball games got under way Saturday night.

St. Mary's and Richholt won their games.
In the absence of Mr. F. A. Knowles his son Grant officially opened Schools Championship series by tossing the ball up at center. The League opened its schedule with three fast games played at the High School Gymnasium.
The first game between the Richholt first and the High Freshmen teams was won by the Richholt 16 to 0. The game was characterized by the good team work of the Richholt boys as a whole and the strong defensive work of Fred Landers at guard who broke up the rushes of the Freshmen Harry Lobach and Fritz Strauss played a good game for the losers.

The following is the line up: Richholt—Balser, Klein, Captain, and Hermie Mulde forwards; Joe Joshim centre; Fred Landers and Ernie Benser guards; subs: Gord Landers and Bill Buser. Freshmen—Fritz Strauss, Captain, and Harry Lobach forwards; Vernie Smart centre; Henry Kolman and Alvin LeBay guards; subs: Zeph Hollenbeck.
The Wm Moore went down to defeat by a score of 22 to 4 before a much larger, more experienced and faster team. The game was much harder fought than the final score would indicate. Jim Olson and Stan Weekala were the high scorers for St. Mary's and John Rorich played a steady game at guard while Ben Jacobson and Al Watkins did the best work for the losers. Jim Olson, Captain and Stan Weekala forwards; Pete Balser centre; John Rorich and Jerry McCarty guards; sub: Jack Conway.
Wm. Moore—Ben Jacobson and Mike Dohn forwards; Al Watkins centre; Ray McGettigan and John Sloan guards; subs: Eugene Perkins and W. Smart.

Between halves the Richholt seconds and the St. Mary's seconds played a speedy game which ended in a scoreless tie, because of the close guarding of both teams. St. Mary's though out weighed made an effort in its team work. Referee: Fred Thorsen and Francis Highland scorer: Herb O'Hare.

Yours Come—After the regular gym class and games the tennis basketball games were run off with the following results: Rough Riders and Bull Dogs a scoreless tie, 2-0. Wild Cats 0, Lightning 5. Five 2, Giants 2. Next Saturday's game will complete the league.
The Pioneers will meet tonight at 8 o'clock and the Comrades will meet on Thursday night.

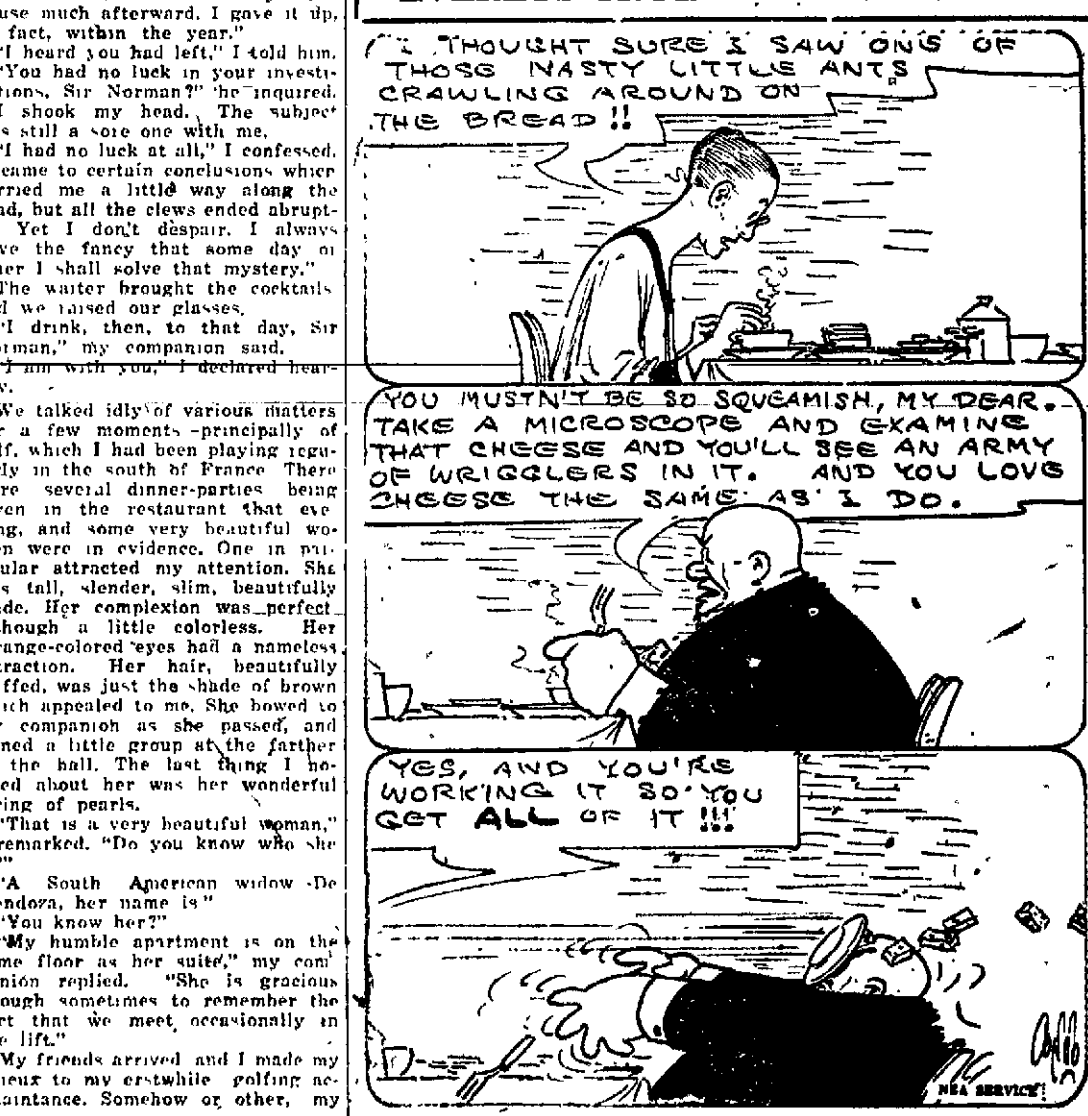

They Might As Well Add A Little Sideline

THE KISS OF JUDAS
BY E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM
Copyright, 1932, by E. Phillips Oppenheim Arrgt. NEA Service, Inc.

Sir Norman Greyes, formerly of Scotland Yard, is devoting his life to tracking down an arch criminal of many aliases and disguises, but known to him as Michael Sayers. Among Sayers' secret abodes was a cottage near an English golf course where he was served by a housemaid, Janet Soale, and lived as "Mr. Stanfield." One day while Sir Norman, a guest at the golf club, was playing the course with "Stanfield," Janet Soale and a police officer, who had tracked Sayers to the spot, had tracked Sayers to the spot. The maid professed to be his master and to Sir Norman complete ignorance, but later confessed to "Stanfield" and became his accomplice, as is told in the present story by Sir Norman.
On the evening of my return from the Riviera after a three-month holiday, I was accosted in the lobby of the Marlborough Hotel by a middle-aged man of inconspicuous appearance who had been seated in a corner alone. It was some few seconds before I could recall him to my memory, but curiously enough a crowd of unpleasant associations gathered themselves together in my mind even before I had recognized him.
"You haven't forgotten me and our golf down at Woking, Sir Norman?" he asked.
I knew all about him then. "Mr. Stanfield, isn't it?" I said. "No, I haven't forgotten."
I was a few minutes early for my party, and I accepted the offer of a cocktail from my golfing acquaintance.
"That was an extraordinary interruption to our first game," he remarked. "I never fancied my little house much afterward. I gave it up, in fact, within the year."
"I heard you had left," I told him. "You had no luck in your investigations, Sir Norman?" he inquired.
I shook my head. The subject was still a sore one with me. "I had no luck at all," I confessed. "I came to certain conclusions which carried me a little way along the road, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."
The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses. "I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.
"I am with you," I declared heartily.
We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, slim, beautifully made. Her complexion was perfect although a little colorless. Her strange-colored eyes had a nameless attraction. Her hair, beautifully coiffed, was just the shade of brown which appealed to me. She bowed to my companion as she passed, and joined a little group at the farther end of the hall. The last thing I noticed about her was her wonderful string of pearls.
"That is a very beautiful woman," I remarked. "Do you know who she is?"
"A South American widow—De Mendoza, her name is."
"You know her?"

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

"Hello!" said Nick. "Who are you?"
"Can't you see?" asked a strange person thumping toward them on peg-leg.
"Are you Peg-Leg?" asked Nancy.
"Certainly!" said the new person. "Aren't you smart?"
"Why?" asked Nick.
"Just because. Besides I heard you say you were going to put Jack Straw out."
"Well, we are," answered Nick. "That's what we came to Mix-Up Land for. Jack Straw put King Even-Steven out and we are going to put him out."
"We don't know yet," it was going to do it."
"How?" asked Peg-Leg again.
"Well, if you must know," said Nancy, "we've got magic shoes. We have passed the fiery mountain all right, so I guess we can cross wide anyway, and Jack Straw's house is just beside it."
"Humph!" exclaimed Peg-Leg. "What's in your basket?"
"Eggs. They're magical eggs that the Cut-Out Woman gave us. That's nothing! I'm smarter than any old Cut-Out Woman," said Peg-Leg. "Now watch what happens." Which one of my legs is it?"
"Left!" said Nick.
Peg-Leg put both hands behind him and then he asked, "Now which?"
"Right!" said Nancy.
Sure enough. Peg-Leg's peg leg had jumped from left to right.
"Oh, oh, that's queer! What kind of magic do you use?" cried Nancy.
"Won't tell," said Peg-Leg, wagging his head. "Only you won't get across that river to Jack Straw's house, eggs or no eggs, shoes or no shoes."
"What's that got to do with peg legs changing around?" asked Nick.
"I'll tell you what," said Peg-Leg boastfully. "Because I'm not Peg-Leg at all, but Jack Straw himself and I've got my magic ring on my left thumb. If I turn it around I can do anything I wish to you. So look out."

Vincent Richards, famous tennis star, has started 1923 in chamionship style.

He is one of Bill Tilden's most dangerous rivals. He looms up as one of the select few who have a chance of dethroning the titelholder.

Recently, in an article in which he discussed the future of tennis, he emphasized the fact that Tilden would suffer a setback before he regained oldtime form.

Tilden's recent appearance of the yearling New York City was the first opportunity for tennis experts had of sizing up the champion's game since he sustained the injury that necessitated the amputation of the end of the middle finger of his right hand.

Tilden Decisively Defeated

Tilden made his metropolitan debut of 1923 pitted against Vincent Richards in an exhibition indoor match. The won in two straight sets, 11-9, 11-9.

Richards was greatin victory and Tilden equally great in defeat.

Eastern experts seem satisfied that Tilden will be as good as ever inside of three months. They insist that his play has lost none of its brilliancy, and the master mind, of course, is still there.

All of which proves that Richards sized up the situation pretty well, in a recent signed article, when he predicted that the champion's conquer was over Tilden would again prove his mastery of the courts.

Richards, however, predicted defeat for Tilden in his early matches, but he was not so confident when he also stated that he expected to make all kinds of trouble for the champion, and would be much disappointed if he didn't score several victories before the close of the year.

The decisive defeat of Tilden by Richards in the first clash of the year on the indoor courts at New York makes Richards stand out as the greatest water-tight tennis man as a player. His tennis does certainly has run true to form.

It has long been theory in basketball that a quintet depends on team play and combination work to carry the ball down the floor for a close shot at the cage which overtopped the outfit that overtook the defense. The theory took to a certain extent, and resorts mainly to long tosses for its points. That theory, of course, still holds true. That's easy to be seen. It couldn't be otherwise. For it's far easier to dish the ball through the hoop at close range than it is from a distance. In the latter instance the element of luck plays too big a part.

However, the old theory doesn't work as well nowadays. Simply because the defensive end of play has grown more efficient, and the guarding has become so close that it is well nigh impossible to pass the ball down court in order to obtain a close shot at the meshwork. Getting the ball down and underneath the basket is almost out of the question.

Consider the recent Western Conference game between Indiana and Illinois, which the former won, 31 to 24. In that fray, the two factions combined had exactly 131 shots at the hoop, of which only 23 resulted in goals. And of the 131 attempts but 28 of them were within the 22 medium leaves. No less than 81 long tosses were tried. All told, 23 field baskets were scored with 13 coming on shots from near the cage, 10 of medium throws, and six on "long" tosses.

Obviously short shots always return the largest rewards, but the above figures go to prove that under the present rules the guarding is so close and the players "cover up" so well that the only way to score to a great extent the "only alternative." And as in the Hoosier-Sucker embargo, when but six goals out of 81 long attempts were made, the "angel" leaves usually results disastrously.

It seems to be much food for thought in this angle of the matter.

BY ANA SERVICE

Ann Arbor, Feb. 27.—When Bill Miller, all-conference forward of the University of Michigan quintet, was recently declared ineligible, it was thought that the Wolverines had lost a great deal of their scoring power. For Miller was not only a clever basket shooter but also ranked as one of the best free throw artists in the Big Ten.

But while Miller's absence is of course felt, still Captain Gilbert Evers, center, and Miller's forward, a worthy successor, is stepping forward. In fact the elongated pivot man has far exceeded expectations, and has stepped into Miller's shoes in stellar style.

In the recent games with Minnesota and Wisconsin, Ely alone was responsible for 26 of his team's 40 points, scoring 26 of the 34 markers made against the Gophers and 11 of the 15 accrued in the Badger clash. All told, Ely dropped in 10 field goals, and made good on 17 in 28 foul tosses. His feat of counting 26 points in a single fray is but one behind the record of Western Conference record hung up by Miller a short time ago.

By NESA Service
Madison, Wis., Feb. 27.—"The best defensive combination in the Western Conference," is what followers of the University of Wisconsin basketball team are calling it. Gus Tobell and Hollie Williams, stellar guards on this year's quintet.

And frankly, they stack up just about that way. In fact much of the Badgers' success on the courts has been due to the great defensive play of this pair. They are veritable anchors of the guarding end of the pastime.

Cincinnati, reorganized with a brilliant young infield and good pitching staff, also figures strongly in McGraw's calculations, while the Chicago Cubs, with a pitching staff above the ordinary, promise to bear watching.

Huggins bases much of his confidence in 1923 prospects upon his belief that the Yankee pitching staff, the deciding factor in last year's race, will be better than in sixteenth this year, and that Babe Ruth, if he returns to 1921 form, will bolster the morale and attacking strength of the club.

The diminutive pilot figures Carl May and Ray Dandridge, whose pitching was a disappointment last season, will flash old-time form, while Bob Shawkey and Joe Bush, 1922 mainstays, will be more effective than ever. Ruth's determination to regain the home-run hitting laurels of last year has been demonstrated by the strong program of conditioning to which he adhered during the winter on his Massachusetts farm.

New York, Feb. 27.—Heralding the approach of spring and another diamond campaign, advance caravans of nearly all of the sixteen major-league baseball clubs now are on their way south for the annual conditioning process. Training camps, scattered in lands of the palmetto and cactus from Florida to Catalina Island, Calif., will be in full swing for all of the clubs by the second week of March.

For the veterans, the next six weeks or so of conditioning and exhibition pastiming will be shedding excess poundage acquired during the winter lay-off and limbering up for competition with eager and ambitious recruits, hundreds of whom will strive for higher positions for the first time in their careers.

MARKET NEWS
ADVANCE ON
FIRST DEALS

Chicago, Feb. 27.—Upturns in prices characterized the wheat market today during the early trading, buyers being somewhat encouraged as a result of announcement that 11 cargoes on ocean passage had been disposed of to European Continental countries. Reports of lack of adequate moisture for winter wheat in sections of the Southwest also tended to strengthen values. The opening which ranged from $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ cent higher with May \$1.17 $\frac{1}{2}$ to \$1.17 $\frac{1}{2}$ and July \$1.14 to \$1.14 $\frac{1}{2}$ was followed by a slight further advance and then something of a reaction.

ADVANCE ON

Chicago, Feb. 27.—Upturns in prices characterized the wheat market today during the early trading, buyers being somewhat encouraged as a result of announcement that 11 cargoes on ocean passage had been disposed of to European Continental countries. Reports of lack of adequate moisture for winter wheat in sections of the Southwest also tended to strengthen values. The opening which ranged from $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{3}{4}$ higher with May \$1.17 $\frac{1}{2}$ to \$1.17 $\frac{3}{4}$ and July \$1.14 to \$1.14 $\frac{1}{2}$ was followed by a slight further advance and then something of a reaction.

WILBERT ROBINSON, HUGHIE JENNINGS, KID GLEASON

Vincent Richards' Dope on Tennis Runs True To Form; Makes Good His Expert Opinion By Defeating Tilden

By Billy Evans

Vincent Richards, famous tennis star, has started 1923 in championship style.

Richards is one of Bill Tilden's most dangerous rivals. He looms up as one of the select few who have a chance of dethroning the titleholder.

Recently, in an article in which he discussed Tilden's future, Richards expressed the fact that Tilden would suffer a setback before he regained ultimate form.

Tilden recently appeared at the year in New York. It was the first opportunity eastern tennis experts had of seeing the champion's game since he sustained the injury that necessitated the amputation of the end of the middle finger of his racket hand.

Tilden decisively defeated Richards in the exhibition match, Richards won in two straight sets, 11-9, 11-9.

Long Shots In High Favor With Big Ten Basketball Teams

It has long been a theory in basketball that a quintet depends on team play and combination work to carry the ball down the floor for a close shot at the cage will consistently beat an outfit that over-looks the passing end of the game to a certain extent, and resorts mainly to long tosses for its points.

That theory, of course, still holds true. That's easy to be seen. It couldn't be otherwise. For it's easier to drop the ball through the hoop at close range than it is from a distance. In the latter instance the element of luck plays too big a part.

However, the old theory doesn't work as well nowadays. Simply because the defensive end of play has grown more efficient, and the guarding has become so close that it is almost impossible to get the ball down court in order to obtain a "net" try at the meshwork. Getting the leather down underneath the basket is almost out of the question.

Loss of Miller Fails to Stop Michigan Five

By NEA Service

Ann Arbor, Feb. 27.—When Bill Miller, all-conference forward of the University of Michigan quintet, was recently declared ineligible, it was thought that the Wolverines had lost a great deal of their scoring power. For Miller was not only a clever basket shooter but also ranked as one of the best free throw artists in the Big Ten.

But while Miller's absence is of course felt, still in Captain Gilbert Ely, center, Coach Mather has found a worthy successor to his star forward. In fact the elongated pivot man has far exceeded expectations, and has stepped into Miller's shoes in stellar style.

In the recent games with Minnesota and Wisconsin, Ely alone was responsible for 37 of his team's 49 points, scoring 26 of the 34 markers made against the Gophers and 15 of the 15 accrued in the Badger clash. All told, Ely dropped in 10 field goals, and made good on 17 in 28 foul tosses. His feat of counting 26 points in a single fray is but one behind the season's Western Conference record hung up by Miller a short time ago.

Ely along with Gibson of Wisconsin, easily stands as the premier center in the Big Ten, and when pitted against the Cardinal star recently, outplayed him by a goodly margin.

Grid Stars Shine In Basketball For Wisconsin

By NEA Service

Madison, Wis., Feb. 27.—The best defensive combination in the Western Conference, is what followers of the University of Wisconsin basketball team are calling Captain Gus Tebell and Hollie Williams, stellar guards on this year's quintet.

And frankly, they stack up just about that way. In fact much of the Badgers' success on the courts has been due to the great defensive play of this pair. They are veritable bulwarks at the guarding end of the pastime.

In practically every game Wisconsin has played to date, the work

League Teams Going South For Training

Twirlers Will Shed Excess Poundage During Next Six Weeks

New York, Feb. 27.—Heralding the approach of spring and another diamond campaign, advance caravans of nearly all of the sixteen major league baseball clubs now are on their way south for the annual conditioning process. Training camps, scattered in lands of the palm tree and cactus from Florida to California, will be in full swing for all of the clubs by the second week of March.

For the veterans, the next six weeks' or so of conditioning and exhibition pastime will mean shedding excess poundage acquired during the winter lay-off and limbering up for competition with eager and ambitious recruits, hundreds of whom will strive for big league positions for the first time in their careers.

This rivalry for regular berths promises to be especially keen among several clubs going through a marked process of reorganization, including the Cleveland and Boston Americans, and the Brooklyn, Chicago and St. Louis Nationals.

Interest among fans is centered largely in the prospects of the New York Giants and Yankees re-creating their triumphs of the past two seasons in the face of increasing strength among several of their more dangerous rivals.

While they are not discounting the opposition they will encounter this year, Managers McGraw, of the Giants, and Huggins, of the Yankees, are confident their teams will keep the National and American League pennants in the same city for the third straight year.

Both pilots declare their teams will be decidedly stronger, although they plan relatively little rebuilding. The Pittsburgh Pirates, in McGraw's opinion, loom as the club the Giants must eliminate to stay at the top of the heap, while the Yankee leader expects his strongest battle from Ty Cobb's Detroit Tigers. Cincinnati, in the National, and St. Louis, in the American, are picked as the next strongest contenders by the metropolitan club managers.

McGraw has announced that he will stand pat on his 1922 championship line-up, with the possible exception of centerfield, devoting most of his attention to bolstering weaknesses in the pitching staff which nearly cost the club the pennant last season. Jimmy O'Connell, $75,000 "phenom" from San Francisco, is expected to fill the berth in midfield, but McGraw will give the veteran Casey Stengel, whose come-back was a sensation last year, and Bill Cunningham an opportunity to contest for the job with the coast youngster.

Jack Bentley, another expensive acquisition, is expected to add considerable strength to the pitching corps. Bentley starred both as a portside finger and slugger with the Baltimore Orioles for several years, but his work with the champions will be confined to the mound, according to McGraw. The Giant leader has a dozen or more recruits from whom he hopes to weed out another twirling star. He also looks for decided improvement from his veterans—Hugh McQuillan, Jack Scott, Art Nehf and Jess Barnes—besides greater effectiveness from younger moundmen like Bill Ryan, Claude Jonnard and Virgil Barnes.

Pittsburgh's veteran and hard-hitting aggregation, in McGraw's belief, will prove a formidable obstacle, under the leadership of Bill McKeehle, who took the Pirate helm around mid-season last year and developed the club into a dangerous contender in the closing month of the campaign.

Cincinnati reorganized with a brilliant young infield and good pitching, also figures strongly in McGraw's calculations, while the Chicago Cubs, with a pitching staff above the ordinary, promise to bear watching.

Huggins figures much of his confidence in 1923 prospects upon his belief that the Yankee pitching staff, the deciding factor in last year's race, will be even more consistent this year and that Babe Ruth, if he returns to 1921 form, will bolster the morale and attacking strength of the club.

The diminutive pilot figures Carl Mays and Sam Jones, whose pitching was a disappointment last season, will flash old-time form, while Bob Shawkey and Joe Bush, 1922 mainstays, will be more effective than ever. Ruth's determination to regain the home-run hitting laurels he lost last year has been demonstrated by the strict program of conditioning to which he adhered during the winter on his Massachusetts farm.

The Tigers, formidable last season, will be much stronger, according to the Yankee view, as a result of the acquisition of Del Pratt, veteran second baseman, and Rip Collins, southpaw twirler, from the Red Sox in exchange for Howard Ehmke, pitcher. Cobb has an unusual array of heavy hitters, flanked by a promising corps of young pitchers a combination of which will be hard to keep from the top.

The St. Louis Browns, unless they are strengthened in several positions, are not rated as high as last year, when they finished just a game behind the Yankees in a thrilling finish, nor as dangerous as the Tigers.

The Chicago White Sox, with a team that developed fast last year and boasted a brilliant string of young pitchers, and Connie Mack's Athletics, who are about due to emerge from the depths, may figure prominently in this season's pennant chase.

Florida, the most popular training ground this year, seven clubs choosing the Everglades state for their conditioning. Texas, Alabama and Arkansas each have two clubs in their confines, while Louisiana, Georgia, and California each have one.

The list of 1923 training sites follows:

SELECTION OF JURY PROCEEDS VERY SLOWLY

Schneider Murder Trial Jury May Not be Obtained Before Evening

Selection of the jury to try the case of Kasimir Schneider, charged with the murder of his wife by poison, proceeded slowly in district court here today, and it appeared as noon that the entire day would be consumed before twelve jurors had been accepted by both sides for the trial.

The courtroom was crowded at the morning session, many of the spectators being neighbors of Schneider, but the spectators were disappointed in that the proceedings were devoted chiefly to questioning of jurors.

P. D. Norton, attorney for the defense, questioned the jurors particularly as their views in accepting circumstantial evidence for conviction of a person on trial for the crime of murder. He also asked the question as to whether or not the fact that the defendant did not go on the witness stand himself would prejudice the jury against his case.

States Attorney Allen also emphasized questions concerning the juror's views of the force of circumstantial evidence and whether or not a verdict would be returned on the basis of such evidence, unless there was a reasonable doubt existing.

The evidence against Schneider as brought out in the preliminary hearing was chiefly circumstantial. An analysis of the stomach of Mrs. Schneider after her death showed arsenic poisoning, chemists testified.

Mrs. W. H. Bodenstein, one of the jurors called, was excused.

TWO VICTIMS SUCCUMB TO ENCEPHALITIS

Elmer E. Kunkel, of Zap and Herman Cook of Medina who passed away at a local hospital Saturday and Sunday respectively were both victims of epidemic encephalitis, or sleeping sickness.

Mr. Kunkel was 60 years of age, and had suffered from the disease for over a month. He was a farmer of the Zap neighborhood where he was a highly respected citizen.

The remains were taken to Forest City, Mo., by train for burial.

Mr. Cook who was 48 years of age was a prominent business man of Medina. He was born in Wisconsin. He leaves a wife and a number of other relatives to mourn his death which resulted after an illness of about 23 days. Funeral services will be held for Mr. Cook tomorrow at Medina.

WANTS MARRIAGE LICENSES JUST AS HIGH AS DOG TAGS

Chicago, Feb. 27.—A marriage license in Chicago today is $1.50. The license fee for a dog tag $3.00. The difference of $1.50 led by Patrick J. Carr, county treasurer, to urge the county board yesterday to favor a $5.00 marriage fee. Commissioner Thomas Murphy said "if a man isn't willing to pay $2 more for a wife than for a dog he shouldn't have a wife. The difference won't stop present day romances."

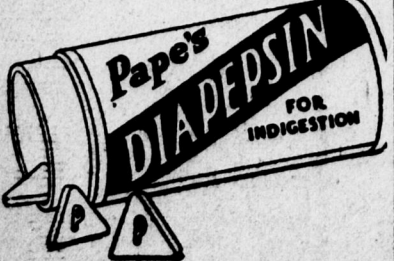

The session rested, as the proposed change be made only by the state legislature.

TEN LEADING WOMEN NAMED AT UNIVERSITY

Three Bismarck Women Are in the List of Ten Which Is Chosen

Ten "leading women of North Dakota" have been chosen by means of questionnaires recently sent out from the extension department of the state university.

The list of ten leading women in the state are:

Miss Minnie Jean Nielson, state superintendent of public instruction. Mrs. Elizabeth Preston Anderson, Fargo.

Mrs. Mary Flemington Strand, Ellendale. Miss Bertha Palmer, Bismarck. Mrs. R. M. Pollock, Fargo.

Miss M. Beatrice Johnstone, Grand Forks. Miss Jean McNaughton Stevens, Tower.

Mrs. Fannie Dunn-Quinn, Bismarck. Mrs. Clark W. Kelly, Devils Lake.

Miss Minnie Jean Nielson, state superintendent of schools heads the list, and the others, in the order named are: Mrs. Elizabeth Preston Anderson, Fargo; Mrs. Ann Allison Cary, Mandan; Mrs. Mary Flemington Strand, Ellendale; Miss Bertha Palmer, Bismarck; Mrs. R. M. Pollock, Fargo; Miss M. Beatrice Johnstone, Grand Forks; Mrs. Jean McNaughton Stevens, Tower; Mrs. Fannie Dunn-Quinn, Bismarck, and Mrs. Clark W. Kelly, Devils Lake.

These women have been selected as representative types of various fields of endeavor in the state, and their names were selected by means of a hundred circular ballots sent to representative citizens of North Dakota requesting that they make up a list of women whom they believed most prominent as leaders of their sex, in public works of the state. Ninety-four of the filled ballots were returned, with the result given above.

School Notes

ST. MARY'S SCHOOL
The pupils of St. Mary's had their usual exercises for Washington's birthday. The children of the first grade, particularly, were attractive as they marched through the building with little red, white, and blue caps and tiny hatchets.

A number of girls and boys of the upper grades were made happy with their Palmer diplomas. Two pupils received their business diplomas. Those who received their student's diplomas are now working diligently for their business diplomas.

Tuesday evening, February 27, a number of the pupils in St. Mary's music class will appear in a piano recital. In May the other students expect to give their recital. The members of the class extend a cordial invitation to their relatives and friends.

The boys of St. Mary's band are hard at work practicing. They expect to give a public concert in the near future.

Senator Comes to Blows with Passenger

Washington, Feb. 27.—Blows were exchanged by Senator Caraway, of Arkansas, and another passenger, on a Washington street car, after the man had been accused of jostling the senator and using offensive language.

The altercation occurred at Fourteenth and Eighth street N. W., after both had left the street car. The unidentified passenger striking Senator Caraway in the face and the senator retaliating by blows with his umbrella.

Senator Caraway's account of the battle was the only one available. The other man went away without leaving his name. The fellow passenger standing behind him insisted on knocking his hat over the Senator's eyes.

The Senator's remonstrance was returned with the advice "not to be so grouchy about it" and "to shut up." The Senator replied with the quick retort which has attracted some attention on the floor of the senate and offered to exchange cards. To this the stranger left the car with Senator Caraway in pursuit.

PEOPLE'S FORUM

A MOTHER'S VIEWPOINT
Editor Bismarck Tribune:

During the past two weeks a number of articles have appeared in your valuable publication dealing with the question as to whether or not married women should continue to work in public offices in this State.

This question is a very serious one and goes back farther than casual observer usually considers. The Bill which was introduced during the present Legislative Assembly, which has attracted some attention on the floor of the senate and offered to exchange cards. To this the stranger left the car with Senator Caraway in pursuit.

Let me ask, can a wife work in an office and still function as a mother of unborn generations? She can not and when she works out she has no time nor inclination to raise a family. She shirks her duty to the Nation and to mankind.

We have been taught to believe that wife-hood is expected to be followed by mother-hood, but if we read the article written by one who signs himself "An Employer" it seems that marriage is for an entirely different purpose, and that married women are required to keep up the efficiency in public offices.

About two years ago the local School Board notified the married teachers that their services were no longer required in the schools. Have our local schools suffered in efficiency because married women are no longer on the teaching staff? No, not one iota, and the School Board is to be congratulated for their foresight.

What is the situation in our public offices today? The very flower of our woman-hood is being employed, married women who should carry out the important functions, such as becoming mothers of our future citizens and making a home what it should be.

But when many young married women are induced to work, it is but natural that they prefer to see propaganda carried out by the claims that is less able financially mentally.

What effect has this on the home? Let us refer to an article published by Judge Lindsey of the Denver Court of Domestic Relations. Judge Lindsey says that economic independence of women is one of the principal reasons for the divorce rate; there being about two marriages to one divorce, not saying anything about those who drift apart.

Is there anything in the world that creates this economic condition more than the continuation of employing married women in public offices? This condition is created in private offices as well as in public offices, but the public has no right to dictate to a private employer but it certainly has a right to say who shall be employed in a public office. Other states have enacted laws prohibiting the employment of married women in public offices and if it is a good thing there, why is it not a good thing here?

This no doubt will be an issue at the next election and the battle will not only be fought by the single working girls, but by thousands who believe in the injustice of the present condition. Public sentiment is against the employment of married women whose husbands are able to provide a living for them.

Public officials should have the foresight to see that it is a contributing factor in the gradual dissemination of the home and the men who are closing their eyes will realize it after it is too late.

There should have been enough civic pride among our public officials so that the introduction of Senate Bill No. 390 would not have become necessary.
